

BOARD OKAYS CONTRACTS FOR HOSPITAL WING

Bids Totalling $113,226
Accepted by Directors

MEMORIAL'S ADDITION TO BE BEGUN SOON

The Pottstown Memorial hospital board of directors last night approved the letting of contracts totaling $113,226 for the construction of the new hospital wing.

Approval by the board was based on the findings of the building committee headed by Paul Sidley.

In okaying the contracts, the directors instructed the building committee to contact Architect George Scutt, of the Eastern Engineering company, Reading, to set things in motion.

Hospital Administrator Albert P. Pollick said, following the meeting, the committee expressed hope that work on the new wing would begin within the next three weeks.

A BREAKDOWN of the bids received is as follows:

General construction: Burke Construction company, Reading, $74,900. Hood and Gross, Philadelphia, $92,347; Frank J. Osinski, Bridgeport, $85,404; and Sanders and Thomas, Pottstown, $85,500.

The contract was awarded to Burke company of Reading.

Plumbing and drainage: Lawrence Hart and Son, Pottstown, $8600; Corbitts Inc., Reading, $11,250; and John W. Yoder, Pottstown, $8995.

Pollick reported that the contract was awarded to Lawrence Hart and Son.

HEATING and ventilation: Corbitts Inc., Reading, $21,500; and John W. Yoder, $18,415. Yoder received the contract.

Electrical work: H and R company, Pottstown, $11,311; Temple Equipment company, Temple, $11,500; and Acme Electric company, Philadelphia, $11,945.

H and R company was the recipient of the contract.

Pollick also pointed out that in addition to the $113,226 there are other expenses which must be included.

He said, "We must consider the architect's fees, the construction of a new driveway, the sinking of an elevator shaft which will be utilized later and the furnishings for the building."

THESE additional items bring the total cost up to $143,687.

"Our original estimate for the new wing was thought to be in the neighborhood of $125,000," he explained, "but since the time the estimate was made, we have decided and included in the contracts to have the entire new south wing air-conditioned."

"Also," he added, "there will be an additional emergency lighting unit installed in the hospital."

According to the architect's plans, which were announced the past Nov. 26, the new section will house eight rooms holding two beds each and an isolation suite of two rooms, holding one bed apiece.

October Draft Call of 9 Reported for Local Board

An October draft call of nine for Local Board 110 was reported by State Selective service headquarters in Harrisburg yesterday.

The call, a small one for Pottstown, comes after a Summer lull in induction and physical examination quotas for the local board.

There was neither a physical nor an induction call this month.

There will be no physical call for the board in October. There are enough men in the reserve pool.

Draft calls are based on the board's available manpower, the State quota and national Selective service requirements.

Operation Reunion Ends on Happy Note

By NORMAND POIRIER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Operation Reunion came to a climactic and joyous close yesterday with a final happy get-together in Philadelphia for members of the O'Connor and Kuzmeh families.

Followed off the plane by members of their immediate family who flew in with them from San Francisco, Capt. Joseph O'Connor and Lt. Frank Kuzmeh yesterday afternoon met the other loved ones they hadn't seen for a total of 1700 prison-bound days.

The plane, carrying a party of ten from San Francisco, taxied to a stop at Philadelphia International airport at 2:40 p. m., almost two hours late.

For Frank Kuzmeh, it was a reunion with a brother he hadn't seen in several years—the brother, Chester, flew in from Alaska, where he works as a railroad brakeman.

For the youthful Frank it also was a happy reunion with two of his sisters, Jean, eldest of the Kuzmeh girls, and Betty. Jean is Mrs. Walter Cienliewski of Philadelphia, and Betty is married to E. L. Donaldson of Levittown.

The sisters greeted their flyer-brother with broad smiles and eager hugs.

FOR CAPT. O'Connor, who was met at Travis Air Force base in California by his mother, wife and two children, it meant the big meeting with his father, brothers and sisters.

Ready to greet him as he stepped off the plane were his father, Thomas L. O'Connor; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. O'Connor Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James W. O'Connor, his brothers and their wives; Mrs. Clarence Hendricks, his sister, and

Testimonial Dinner Is Scheduled for O'Connor Family

A testimonial dinner in honor of Capt. Joseph L. O'Connor and members of his family is being planned by the Spring-Ford Rotary club.

Lester Horning, who heads the planning committee, said last night that his group has scheduled Sept. 30 for the event.

The event will take place at the Spring-Ford Country club at 6:30 p. m.

In addition to entertaining the O'Connor family, the club also will observe Ladies Night.

Meanwhile, Capt. O'Connor stated that he is sure he will be available for the testimonial unless something unforeseen should happen.

Building Is Leased For Postal Annex

Pottstown postoffice has leased for five years a "tailor made" building that will provide 3000 square feet of space for a badly-needed parcel post annex.

This was announced yesterday by Postmaster J. Alfred Marquet, who worked with R. H. Steffy, US postal-inspector of the Philadelphia office, on the leasing of the building at South Washington and Apple streets, across the street from the rear of the postoffice.

One reason the annex is "badly needed," Marquet said, is that parcel post volume has been increasing steadily. "There's been a lot of talk about recession," he said, "but evidently Pottstown shippers are going at full tilt, at least according to our records."

The annex building was leased from the Charles W. Satterthwaite estate. Satterthwaite had conducted a battery service business there.

RENOVATIONS, including paint and new lighting fixtures, will be made before it is occupied by parcel post men. Marquet said he hoped renovations would be completed by the end of next month.

The one-story brick building, Marquet said, is tailor made, so to speak, for us. We can be in constant touch with the men there. They can punch in and out of the regular office. It has excellent facilities for handling trucks, carrying both incoming and outgoing parcel post."

He added, "It affords still another fine arrangement for us: we can park our five post-office trucks overnight right at the annex. Heretofore, we were paying garage rent."

The annex will be used all year 'round, he noted, not merely during the Christmas rush, as was the temporary annex set up the past two years in the Henry Sandler garage on East High street.

The 3000 square feet of space which compares with the 300 square feet that can be devoted to parcel post handling in the main postoffice, will be used only for parcel post. "There will be no window service at all in the annex," Marquet asserted.

THREE PROPERTY-owners offered buildings that were generally suitable. The Satterthwaite property was not only the best; it was the one on which the lowest bid was made, the postmaster reported.

The permanent annex, he said, "will be a tremendous help." He added that "Our employees have done a miraculous job in maintaining the daily flow of parcels under the crowded conditions."

There will be an abundance of uses for the 300 square feet in the postoffice that the parcel post section will give up, he noted: "Our present building, even without the parcel post, will still be crowded."

One advantage of the annex is that it will make possible the setting-up of a modern "stacking system," which should keep parcel post handling at an efficient level, despite the steady increase in volume, Marquet concluded.

Council's law and damage committee last night turned down three minor claims against the borough for vehicle repairs and towing.

Solicitor C. Edmund Wells advised the committee and then summarized the decisions, "You shouldn't pay a claim just because it's small. It's easy to pay a small claim, but difficult to pay a big one."

"The determining factor on payment must be liability. And I can't see where liability has been shown on any of these claims."

The biggest claim was a bill of $46 submitted by Florist Augustus L. Levengood, Berks and Glasgow streets, Stowe, for damage incurred to his truck.

Levengood claimed the manhole cover at Berks and Walnut streets was on upside down and when the truck ran over it, it flipped up, permitting the wheel to slip into the hole.

WELLS ASKED Borough manager Horace B. Gulden if it were possible for the cover to be on upside down.

Gulden said it was.

Wells pointed out the borough still is not liable unless it has been notified of the condition.

"Did you receive a call on the cover, Horace?" he asked. Gulden said he hadn't.

For the same reason, failure to show liability, a $4.75 claim to realign the front wheels of an automobile and a $5 towing claim, were turned down.

Committeemen C. Raymond Eppelheimer, William B. Twaddell and Wilbert O'Dell unanimously voted against payment of the claims.

Fair Autumn, goddess of the harvest and patroness of football, is here.

She arrived in the Pottstown area this morning at 3:07 o'clock, and her entrance was in keeping with her mellow dignity.

A full moon was her golden chariot, and the deep blue sky her avenue of approach.

Tingling temperatures greeted the return of the fruitful season. Thermometer readings were in the upper 50s early this morning.

IN the countryside and in Pottstown, too, Autumn's influence will be felt more and more each day. It could already be seen early this morning.

The first rays of dawn light found the apples blushing redder, pumpkins and ears of corn swelling and ripening, chrysanthemum buds bursting into bloom.

Soon the golden touch will be everywhere. The corn will peep through its dried husk, ready for the picker, and falling leaves will spread a rustling carpet as they feel Autumn's cool breath.

HER MAGIC will include the lacy patterns of frost on window-panes, and the crisp white veil she lays on fields and meadows in the early mornings.

Everywhere in the area Autumn's influence will be felt—first among the animals. Being closer to nature, they are most sensitive to the arrival of each new season.

Squirrels will be more active than ever, if possible. They will make good use of Autumn's shorter days to add to their storehouses of walnuts and acorns.

Woodchucks and field mice will try to lay up as much corn as possible before the farmer takes it from them.

Other woodland animals will scurry among the falling leaves.

He added, "It affords still another fine arrangement for us: we can park our five post-office trucks overnight right at the annex. Heretofore, we were paying garage rent."

The annex will be used all year 'round, he noted, not merely during the Christmas rush, as was the temporary annex set up the past two years in the Henry Sander garage on East High street.

The 3000 square feet of space, which compares with the 300 square feet that can be devoted to parcel post handling in the main postoffice, will be used only for parcel post. "There will be no window service at all in the annex," Marquet asserted.

THREE PROPERTY-owners offered buildings that were generally suitable. The Satterthwaite property was not only the best; it was the one on which the lowest bid was made, the postmaster reported.

The permanent annex, he said, "will be a tremendous help." He added that "Our employees have done a miraculous job in maintaining the daily flow of parcels under the crowded conditions."

There will be an abundance of uses for the 300 square feet in the postoffice that the parcel post section will give up, he noted: "Our present building, even without the parcel post, will still be crowded."

One advantage of the annex is that it will make possible the setting-up of a modern "stacking system," which should keep parcel post handling at an efficient level, despite the steady increase in volume, Marquet concluded.

Council's law and damage committee last night turned down three minor claims against the borough for vehicle repairs and towing.

Solicitor C. Edmund Wells advised the committee and then summarized the decisions. "You shouldn't pay a claim just because it's small. It's easy to pay a small claim, but difficult to pay a big one."

"The determining factor on payment must be liability. And I can't see where liability has been shown on any of these claims."

The biggest claim was a bill of $46 submitted by Florist Augustus L. Levensgood, Berks and Glasgow streets, Stowe, for damage incurred to his truck.

Levensgood claimed the manhole cover at Berks and Walnut streets was on upside down and when the truck ran over it, it flipped up, permitting the wheel to slip into the hole.

WELLS ASKED Borough manager Horace B. Gulden if it were possible for the cover to be on upside down.

Gulden said it was.

Wells pointed out the borough still is not liable unless it has been notified of the condition.

"Did you receive a call on the cover, Horace?" he asked. Gulden said he hadn't.

For the same reason, failure to show liability, a $4.75 claim to realign the front wheels of an automobile and a $5 towing claim, were turned down.

Committeemen C. Raymond Eppelheimer, William B. Twaddell and Wilbert O'Dell unanimously voted against payment of the claims.

Dump Blaze Here Damages Bulldozer Owned by Woodley

There is no telling what one will find on the borough dump. Yesterday it was fire.

Although the fire was confined to the dump, it extensively damaged a bulldozer owned by Donald E. Woodley, Pottstown's garbage collector.

Woodley reported last night that the bulldozer, purchased a short time ago for more than $4000, was damaged to the extent of needing a complete overhauling.

Origin of the fire was not determined. But for almost four hours some 20 firemen from two fire companies fought the fire before bringing it under control.

The Good Will pumper was first summoned by Woodley about 4:25 p. m., while the Philadelphia Steam Engine Fire company arrived at the scene at 5:47 p. m.

ROBERT Roth, of the Good Will company, said 20 men were on hand. They used the pumper and hooked up 800 feet of hose to a fire plug in the Bethlehem Steel company yard.

He explained that when they arrived they immediately pulled the bulldozer away from the fire, then called for aid from the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company.

John Sitars, a pumper and about a half-dozen men assisted in subduing the flames.

WINNER of second prize in the Junior high division was Robert March, 426 Walnut street, former president of the student council at Junior high. He received a $50 war bond.

CHICAGO FIRM GETS WATER TANK CONTRACT

Installation Will Terminate Pressure Problem in North End

Council's water committee last night awarded the tank contract to Chicago Bridge and Iron company on a low bid of $97,600.

THE committee unanimously was authorized by council this past Aug. 10 to receive bids and award the contract to the low bidder.

COUNCIL GRANTED the committee to award the contract to expedite the extensive program of improvements to the borough water system, a program recommended by Albright and Friel (Philadelphia consulting engineers).

The mid-Western company, an experienced firm in tank construction not only offered the lowest bid, but promised to complete the job a month sooner than either of the other two bidders.

Middle bidder was Sanders and Thomas, Security Trust building, offering $104,436.

High bidder on a figure of $105,500 was the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company.

G. E. BORST, representing the successful firm, said the job could be finished in 10 months from the time the contract is signed.

Alfred Estrada, of Albright and Friel, who tallied bids, said the contract could be prepared in the next few days.

Borst told the committee the biggest problem will be availability of the three-quarter inch steel plating used in tank construction.

He explained that much of the work on the new tank will be done away from the site.

Estrada estimated, "There won't be any work done on the job here until sometime next year. But the sooner we award the contract the sooner the successful bidder can place his request for materials—principally steel plating."

THE TANK WILL be built on a rectangular tract, 342 feet on Jackson street, and 212 feet on Sheridan street. The borough has negotiated with Brookside Country club to purchase the tract for $2755.

The top of the tank will be 110 feet above the ground. It will be supported by eight tubular legs, 30 inches in diameter.

looking for a Winter home in some hole or hollow log.

AMONG the signs of welcome Autumn will receive are the happy yelping of hunting dogs as they sense the approach of gunning season, and the smell of shotgun oils as gunners groom their weapons.

The booting of footballs and the crunch of shoulder pads as rival teams hit the line will be heard on local gridirons.

The muffled roar of football pep meetings will drift out across the campuses of local schools on Friday nights.

In quiet residential neighborhoods, householders will spend late afternoons burning their dry leaves. The acrid smoke will rise slowly and drift through the bare tree branches—like incense to the goddess of the season.

So far Autumn will linger until the harvest is gathered and the last small-game hunter comes home.

She may even be kind enough to lavish a few weeks of Indian Summer on the area.

Though not as young as Springtime, Autumn can be just as capricious, if she chooses.

In that case, she may inter-

Carnival Man Is Arrested for Poor Conduct

A gray-thatched carnival man, who boasted he has been in the "biggest and best" jails in the nation, was arrested on four charges in a Pottstown tavern last night.

Raymond C. Herbers, 52, of Tallahassee, Fla., was committed to Berks county prison without bail at 9 p. m. after he was held for three hours in the borough lockup.

The carnival man, who moved his trailer to the Grainger Trailer camp, Exeter township, a few days ago, was scheduled for a stand at the Reading fair, but his alleged escapades the past two days have cramped his side-show activities.

He was arrested in the Pottstown cafe, High and Washington streets, by Desk Sgt. Russell B. Hummel and Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy, on a warrant from Exeter Justice of the Peace Richard Luck.

Herbers will be given a hearing before Luck at 7 o'clock tonight.

THE COMPLICATED story of the roving carnival man began on Monday night when Chief John P. Horine, Exeter township, tried to pick him up on a warrant charging him with drunk and disorderly conduct and threats to his wife.

The warrant was sworn out before Justice Luck by Mrs. Herbers.

Horine said he found Herbers drinking in King's tavern along Route 422 near the trailer camp.

The chief explained, "When I tried to pick him up he got very abusive and loud. I had to take him away forcibly. I had to handcuff, and even then he got out of the car on the way to prison."

"We were going to give him a hearing that night, but he was in no condition, so we committed him to prison and set a hearing for this afternoon (Tuesday at 4:30 p. m.)."

"Later he got the $500 bail from a professional bondsman in Reading (Joseph Liever). Even before the hearing he got into trouble again."

"His wife swore out a second warrant on a drunk and disorderly charge at 4 o'clock. Instead of appearing at the hearing he headed for Pottstown in a cab."

"On the way he had the driver stop six times at taverns for a drink or so."

"I got into Pottstown and searched several bars with a Pottstown officer (Patrolman John Paretti), but we didn't locate him."

"I got a call shortly after I returned that he had been picked up. He said he was going to Pottstown to see Attorney Prince (Joseph L. Prince)."

"When we had him up before the punks" and boasted about the jails he'd seen throughout the country.

"I checked on his record and learned he spent 30 days in jail in (Continued on Last Page, First Section)

Jews Will Begin Harvest Festival Rites at Sundown

Pottstown's Jewish community will hold its colorful and symbolic harvest festival, the Feast of Tabernacles, beginning at sundown today.

A small hut, like those the Israelites used for shelter after the exodus from Egypt, will be set up at Congregation Mercy and Truth synagogue.

On its rude framework will be entwined branches of trees. Fruits of the field will be its decoration.

It was in such huts, or tabernacles, that the Jews lived during their celebration of the feast when they were an agricultural people in ancient times.

Tomorrow, in Pottstown, the hut outside the synagogue will be a place to serve refreshments after the services.

The Jews call the harvest festival Succos (or Sukkoth), their expression for hut or booth.

TWO THEMES are expressed by the celebration. One is thankfulness for the harvest; the other is recall of the years in the wilderness.

Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of Congregation Mercy and Truth, explains the symbolism of Succos, by pointing out that the hut outside the synagogue will remind worshippers there that God can protect them even though they live in a hut, with only branches shutting out the sky.

The first two days—tomorrow and Friday—are the principal ones of the week-long celebration.

Services at the synagogue will be held on both days, beginning at 9 a. m. and lasting about one and a half hours.

Since the day begins at sundown, there also will be services (Erev Succos) tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow morning the rabbi will deliver a sermon titled "The (Continued on Page Seven)

White House Denies Durkin Charge That Ike Broke Promise on T-H Law

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Martin Durkin, former secretary of labor, today accused President Eisenhower of breaking his word on proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law, and the White House promptly denied the charge. Durkin told the AFL convention here the President promised him the past month to support a set of proposed amendments to the labor relations law but then said three weeks later he couldn't go along with them.

19-Year-Old Student Confesses Strangling College Sweetheart

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio, Sept. 22 (AP)—A slender, 19-year-old college sophomore who planned to be a minister today confessed strangling to death and stabbing his college sweetheart, Sheriff Dean McCallister said.

Roy Roger Schinagle Jr. of Mayfield Heights near Cleveland, whom his high school teachers described as a "nice boy," confessed the brutal slaying of pretty, 19-year-old Miss Cynthia Pfeil of White Plains, N. Y.

Her mutilated body was found the past Friday in a lonely woods near this Central Ohio town. Clad only in Red slippers and a flannel nightgown, the body bore signs of a beating and her face was pierced beyond recognition by more than 20 stab wounds.

The dark-haired victim, who met Schinagle the past year while both were Freshmen at Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, was pregnant and had been criminally attacked, an autopsy revealed.

SCHINAGLE, who just turned 19, sobbed out a confession that covered nine typewritten pages a few hours after he was arrested on the college campus, some 40 miles south of Upper Sandusky.

No other arrests had been made. Until today, police had no clues to the identity of the victim or her slayer. Hundreds of persons had come to see the girl's body in vain attempts to identify her.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pfeil of White Plains, said she left home Aug. 24. They said they did not know whether she planned to visit a brother in Columbus, Ohio, or re-enter Ohio Wesleyan.

The parents heard from their daughter only once—a letter postmarked the next day from New York city.

Schinagle told Police Capt. Justin Cornelly, the girl had come to his home to see him. Officers said Schinagle did not remember the exact date of her arrival in Mayfield Heights.

SCHINAGLE said he then went to Delaware to enroll at college. A few days later, Miss Pfeil came to Delaware to be near him. On one occasion, she stayed overnight in a "shack" on the school's athletic field, the boy related.

Schinagle's account of the murder and the incidents that preceded it was sketchy and he often experienced difficulty remembering what happened the past Thursday, the day of the murder.

He told Capt. Cornelly the couple argued after she told him another man had "annoyed" her. During the argument, Schinagle related, the girl swung at him. After that, the youth said, he lost his head and strangled her, and put her in the back seat of his car and started driving. He said he could remember nothing after that.

Later Schinagle told his interrogators he "faintly" remembered picking up a piece of pipe or a rod. At one time he tried to revive her, he said. The youth said he did not know where the police took place and told the police he did not know where he drove. Asked why he beat his victim, Schinagle replied:

"I beat her because she was dead."

Schinagle sobbed intermittently as he confessed the slaying of the girl he said he planned to marry.

ATLANTIC GALES BATTER LINERS

Eighty-Mile Winds Sweep British Coastline

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Gales whipped the Eastern Atlantic into a boiling cauldron today—then died down, leaving a procession of battered ships in their wake.

The liners United States, Queen Elizabeth and Ile de France were among the vessels battered by winds reaching 80 miles an hour that swept down the west coast of Britain and into the English channel.

The French Ile de France, packed with US tourists on their way home, plucked 21 men out of the water as the stricken Liberian freighter Greenville sank yesterday 700 miles off the west coast of England.

Two men—one of them the captain—died as the Greenville floundered helplessly in the mighty seas. The rescued 24 were pulled aboard the Ile de France after the liner had issued an "abandon ship or we leave you" ultimatum.

BOTH the United States and the Queen Elizabeth were held up by the gale and mountainous seas. The United States battled churning waves for five hours before she was able to pull away from the French port of LeHavre, bound for Southampton and New York.

Casualties aboard the United States included one seaman with a broken leg and scores of bruises among the passengers.

The Queen Elizabeth—carrying among others 100 British-born wives of American soldiers returning for a visit with their folks—rocked and dipped at anchor off the Isle of Wight before docking at Southampton 13 hours late.

State's Crime Rate Shows Big Increase
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—A sharp increase in Pennsylvania's crime rate was recorded in the first half of 1953 compared with the corresponding period the past year.

However, the FBI, in its semi-annual uniform crime report, pointed out that some of the increase was the result of this year's more complete reports.

The report showed Pennsylvania's crime rate went up this year in all six categories—murder and non-negligent manslaughter, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, breaking or entering, larceny— theft, and auto theft.

found with the dog between them. The old icebox had been stored in the garage at Susan's home. Police said it appeared the children and the puppy crawled into the box at play and the door slammed shut, trapping them.

Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hincheliff, were away at work at the time. The boy was the son of Sgt. and Mrs. J. F. Moran who live near the Hincheliff home.

Police said they have not determined how long the victims were trapped in the icebox. This tragedy followed a series of icebox deaths in other states during August. Five children were smothered at Proctor, Ark., Aug. 12. About the same time four others met death in similar manner at Richmond, Va., and two at Haverhill, Mass.

AFL Ousts Longshoremen's Union For Harboring 'Racketeers, Thugs'

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The AFL today expelled its longshoremen's union for harboring "gangsters, racketeers and thugs."

The AFL convention voted to oust the 60,000-member International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) despite a personal appeal on the convention floor from 61-year-old ILA President Joseph P. Ryan.

The union has been accused by crime investigators of being infiltrated by criminal elements on the New York and New Jersey waterfronts.

The resolution ousting the ILA said: "The ILA has permitted gangsters, racketeers and thugs to fasten themselves to the body of its organization, infecting it with corruption and destroying its integrity, its effectiveness and its trade union character."

THE vote for expulsion was 72-362 to 765.

The ILA delegates walked out.

Humphrey Tells Bankers Levies Will Drop As Scheduled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey drew applause from 3800 bankers today with an unqualified statement that personal income taxes will drop and the excess profits tax will die on Dec. 31, as scheduled.

Humphrey spoke after President Eisenhower urged the American Bankers Association to join in a quest for "truly American" answers to national problems. They should seek, the President said, policies that are "sound for all-Americans—not for just one class, group or segment, but for all."

That the bankers approved Humphrey's words was clear. They interrupted his speech with applause three times, after each of these three statements:

"It is the definite policy of this Administration, through tax reductions, to spend for the people for them to spend for themselves all the real savings in Government spending which can be reasonably anticipated."

"As I promised, the excess profits tax will expire on Dec. 31, and there will be no request for renewal."

"At the same time an average of 10 percent reduction in individual income taxes is scheduled to go into effect, and it will become effective."

Administration sources said the White House had approved Humphrey's words in advance. They said that if more revenue is needed for defense—the hydrogen bomb or other factors—the Administration will seek to get it from "other taxes," nature unspecified.

'Captured Russian Flyer' Causes Stir In Illinois Air Defense Exercise

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 22 (AP)—An exercise testing America's air defenses, sprung with touches of realism and somewhat as a surprise, sparked an electrifying report today that a Russian flyer had landed in Illinois.

The "flyer" turned out to be a strangely garbed, Russian speaking US Air Intelligence airman wearing a red star and hammer and sickle insignia on his furlined cap.

He played his role for three hours in a jail cell before jailing his true identity.

The report of his "surrender," given out by puzzled law enforcement officials, was carried on some news wires and radio broadcasts and on one telephone telecast. It brought quick network inquiries from several parts of the nation.

THE RUMOR raced through the twin cities of Champaign-Urbana. The Champaign county courthouse buzzed with excitement.

Lt. Frank J. Cunnion, head of the Air Intelligence Service squadron at O'Hare International airport near Chicago, blamed a "leak" of information for the hassle.

The "enemy flyer" A. L. C. Witold Glinski of Chicago, was flown early today from O'Hare airport to Chantane Air base at nearby Rantoul.

He was driven by car to the state police station at Urbana and walked in and "surrendered" to Policemen Charles F. Phelps at 8:40 a. m.

GLINSKI also was wearing Air Force jump boots stamped "property of the US Air Force" and Winter Air Force coveralls. He handed Phelps a typewritten card saying:

"I am participating in an air defense exercise. I am to be regarded and treated as an enemy air crew member. I have just bailed out and landed northwest of Mayview Crossroads (near the station). I am surrendering myself into your custody since I do not think I can escape from your country."

He replied to all questions in the Russian tongue. Phelps notified his superiors and Glinski was locked up in the county jail.

Cunnion, who obtained Glinski's release, said the exercise was designed to test the co-ordination between state police and Air Intelligence. He said state police were notified 10 weeks ago of the activities of his squadron but somebody got panicky when Glinski showed up.

Rita to Wed Haymes In Simple Ceremony

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 22 (AP)—Rita Hayworth, who married Aly Khan amid scented swimming pools and international society, will wed Dick Haymes in a simple ceremony Thursday morning.

The former princess and the crooner will be married by a Nevada judge in a three-minute ceremony only by their lawyers, her two daughters and the press.

Miss Hayworth will take place in the Gold Room at the Sands hotel at 11 a. m. Thursday morning.

"We don't need any frills and fancy trimmings this time," she declared. "It's enough that I love Dick and he loves me and I've to be married at last after all the difficulties we've had to face."

We'll get right to the point. The comments we've been getting from new Buick owners about the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo are terrific. And the reason is—this fully automatic transmission is, in itself, terrific. It has a new, firm, solid "take-hold"—gives you instant getaway response. It has new quiet—you can barely hear the acceleration build-up. It has unique and utter simplicity of operation. You just move your Selector into Drive range, press the pedal, and go. That's all. But the sweetest thing of all about TT Dynaflo is its smoothness.

You move from standstill to your legal speed in one progressive build-up of power delivery. You feel a constant "carry" of forward motion, unbroken in any way—because here no gearshifting takes place, either manually or automatically. Even your deceleration is infinitely smooth and gradual, with the cushioned control of flowing oil slowing down. Wouldn't you like to sample this wonderful new getaway and pleasant quiet and immaculate smoothness? We'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo—and let the thrills come where they may. Drop in soon, wouldn't you?

The United States battled churning waves for five hours before she was able to pull away from the French port of LeHavre, bound for Southampton and New York.

Casualties aboard the United States included one seaman with a broken leg and scores of bruises among the passengers.

The Queen Elizabeth—carrying among others 100 British-born wives of American soldiers returning for a visit with their folks—rocked and dipped at anchor off the Isle of Wight before docking at Southampton 13 hours late.

State's Crime Rate Shows Big Increase

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—A sharp increase in Pennsylvania's crime rate was recorded in the first half of 1953 compared with the corresponding period the past year.

However, the FBI, in its semi-annual uniform crime report, pointed out that some of the increase was the result of this year's more complete reports.

The report showed Pennsylvania's crime rate went up this year in all six categories—murder and non-negligent manslaughter, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, breaking or entering, larceny-theft, and auto theft.

CATHEDRAL PICKPOCKET—Estela Diaz Gonzalez, accused of snatching purses and picking pockets of worshippers as they knelt in prayer at famous St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, is confronted by police detective Mary Shanley, who made the arrest. Miss Gonzalez, who is on a visitor's visa from Mexico, staged a hairpulling match with the detective on the cathedral steps when taken into custody. A male accomplice fled to safety as several shots were fired in the air.

AFL Ousts Longshoremen's Union For Harboring 'Racketeers, Thugs'

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The AFL today expelled its longshoremen's union for harboring "gangsters, racketeers and thugs."

The AFL convention voted to oust the 60,000-member International Longshoremen's association (ILA) despite a personal appeal on the convention floor from 67-year-old ILA President Joseph P. Ryan.

The union has been accused by crime investigators of being infiltrated with criminal elements on the New York and New Jersey waterfronts.

The resolution ousting the ILA said: "The ILA has permitted gangsters, racketeers and thugs to fasten themselves to the body of its organization, infecting it with corruption and destroying its integrity, its effectiveness and its trade union character."

THE vote for expulsion was 72-362 to 765.

The ILA delegates walked out.

Humphrey Tells Bankers Levies Will Drop As Scheduled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey drew applause from 3800 bankers today with an unqualified statement that personal income taxes will drop and the excess profits tax will die on Dec. 31, as scheduled.

Humphrey spoke after President Eisenhower urged the American Bankers association to join in a quest for "truly American" answers to national problems. They should seek, the President said, policies that are "sound for all-Americans—not for just one class, group or segment, but for all."

That the bankers approved Humphrey's words was clear. They interrupted his speech with applause three times, after each of these three statements:

"It is the definite policy of this Administration, through tax reductions, to return to the people for them to spend for themselves all the real savings in Government spending which can be reasonably anticipated."

"As I promised, the excess profits tax will expire on Dec. 31, and there will be no request for renewal."

"At the same time an average of 10 percent reduction in individual income taxes is scheduled to go into effect, and it will become effective."

Administration sources said the White House had approved Humphrey's words in advance. They said that if more revenue is needed for defense—because of Soviet possession of the hydrogen bomb or other factors—the Administration will seek to get it from "other taxes," nature unspecified.

'Captured Russian Flyer' Causes Stir In Illinois Air Defense Exercise

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 22 (AP)—An exercise testing America's air defenses, sprung with touches of realism and somewhat as a surprise, sparked an electrifying report today that a Russian flyer had landed in Illinois.

The "flyer" turned out to be a strangely garbed, Russian speaking US Air Intelligence airman wearing a red star and hammer and sickle insignia on his furlined cap.

He played his role for three hours in a jail cell before jailers learned his true identity.

The report of his "surrender," given out by puzzled law enforcement officials, was carried on some news wires and radio broadcasts and on one network telecast. It brought quick telephone inquiries from several parts of the nation.

THE RUMOR raced through the

Rita to Wed Haymes In Simple Ceremony

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 22 (AP)—Rita Hayworth, who married Aly Khan amid scented swimming pools and international society, will wed Dick Haymes in a simple ceremony Thursday morning.

The former princess and the crooner will be married by a Nevada judge in a three-minute ceremony attended only by their lawyers, her two daughters and the press.

Miss Hayworth said the event will take place in the Gold Room at the Sands hotel at 11 a. m. Thursday morning.

"We don't need any frills and fancy trimmings this time," she declared. "It's enough that I love Dick and he loves me and we're to be married at last after all the difficulties we've had to face."

twin cities of Champaign-Urbana. The Champaign county courthouse buzzed with excitement.

Lt. Frank J. Cunnion, head of the Air Intelligence Service squadron at O'Hare International airport near Chicago, blamed a "leak" of information for the hassle.

The "enemy flyer" A. I. C. Witold Glinki of Chicago, was flown early today from O'Hare airport to Chanute Air base at nearby Rantoul.

He was driven by car to the state police station at Urbana and walked in and "surrendered" to Policeman Charles F. Phelps at 8:40 a. m.

GLINSKI also was wearing Air Force jump boots stamped "property of the US Air Force" and Winter Air Force coveralls. He handed Phelps a typewritten card saying:

"I am participating in an air defense exercise. I am to be regarded and treated as an enemy air crew member. I have just bailed out and 'landed' northwest of Mayview Crossroads (near the station). I am surrendering myself into your custody since I do not think I can escape from your country."

He replied to all questions in the Russian tongue. Phelps notified his superiors and Glinki was locked up in the county jail.

Cunnion, who obtained Glinki's release, said the exercise was designed to test the co-ordination between state police and Air Intelligence. He said state police were notified 10 weeks ago of the activities of his squadron but somebody got panicky when Glinki showed up.

New word for GETAWAY } "TT" DYNAFLOW!

The 1953 Buick Super Riviera. Wire wheel covers, illustrated, optional at extra cost.

You move from standstill to your legal speed in one progressive build-up of power delivery. You feel a constant "carry" of forward motion, unbroken in any way—because here no gearshifting takes place, either manually or automatically. Even your deceleration is infinitely smooth and gradual, with the cushioned control of flowing oil slowing down.

Wouldn't you like to sample this wonderful new getaway and pleasant quiet and immaculate smoothness?

We'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo—and let the thrills come where they may. Drop in soon, wouldn't you?

We'll get right to the point. The comments we've been getting from new Buick owners about the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo are terrific. And the reason is—this fully automatic transmission is, in itself, terrific.

It has a new, firm, solid "take-hold"—gives you instant getaway response. It has new quiet—you can barely hear the acceleration build-up. It has unique and utter simplicity of operation. You just move your Selector into Drive range, press the pedal, and go. That's all.

But the sweetest thing of all about TT Dynaflo is its smoothness.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
Available at additional cost on Roadmaster and Super models. †Optional at extra cost in Super and Roadmaster Sedan and Riviera models.

Fall Arbor, Bird Day Proclaimed by Governor

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22 (U) — Gov. John S. Fine today proclaimed Oct. 9 as Fall Arbor and Bird Day in Pennsylvania.

The Governor called on all Pennsylvanians to observe that day by "encouraging the planting of trees and shrubbery and by group and community programs advancing the cause of reforestation."

In his proclamation the Governor also set aside next April 9 as the date for Spring Arbor and Bird Day and the entire week beginning April 4, 1954, as Conservation Week.

Pottstown Man One Of Three Injured in Route 422 Collision

A Pottstown man and two Philadelphians were injured early last night in a head on collision on Route 422, near Lafayette Hill, Whitmarsh township.

The Pottstown man was identified as David Johns, 313 Franklin street. He was treated at the Montgomery hospital for abrasions of the forehead and an injured left elbow.

Admitted were Bernard Edison, 30, and Sidney Ginsburg, 28, both of Philadelphia.

Police Sgt. John Lebold, Whitmarsh township, reported that Johns was traveling west in a small panel truck on Route 422, while Edison was moving in the opposite direction.

The officer estimated about $300 damage to Johns' truck and about $150 to Edison's car.

Time of the accident was set at 5:30 p. m.

TROOPS PRAISED

DELMENHORST, Germany, Sept. 22 (AP)—Gen. Alfred Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, said tonight he was very well pleased with the performance of the 33,000 Dutch troops in Autumn maneuvers in North Germany.

FINDING HER WAY—To a Pottstown tourist far from home, a traffic cop can be a friend. Ohio may be beautiful, but you get lost if you don't keep your eyes on the highway.

During the Glidden tour, Mrs. William J. Roden Jr. wasn't sure just where the road was taking her, so she stopped to ask directions. She's driving her husband's antique automobile, one of hundreds taking part in the tour.

"Cleveland was nice," she says, "but now I'm out to see the rest of the state. Is this the way to Columbus?" "Yes, ma'am," says the officer. "Have a nice trip, but don't speed."

That's a 1909 White Toy Tonneau Mrs. Roden is driving. The Rodens are from Wilson and Rohland streets.

Art Teacher, Pupil Will Fly Today as Result of Contest

Karl Pacanovsky, head of The Hill's arts and crafts department, and Sibley Smith, a last-year pupil, fly today to Dearborn, Mich., for a three-day trip they won because of Smith's prize winning exhibit at an industrial show in Dearborn the past month.

A modern design dining room table won first prize in the show contest. Smith will get $300 in cash. He and his instructor get the expense-paid trip.

The pair leaves Philadelphia at 1:45 a. m. today and will return Sunday. It is Pacanovsky's first airplane trip. He once had vowed he'd never fly but said that if one of his pupils won the contest, he'd make an exception.

"Friends have been giving me alluring stories of airplane trips, to keep my morale up," Pacanovsky asserted. "I'm still shaky."

Smith's table now is on exhibition in the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry. The contest was sponsored by Ford Motor company.

Business-Education Day Scheduled for Oct. 21 by Chamber

Pottstown's second Business-Education Day sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be set for Oct. 21, according to information released by Henry N. West, chairman of the steering committee.

The steering committee held its first meeting yesterday when it convened for lunch at the Brookside Country club. Purpose of the committee, according to its chairman, is to arrange for participation in B-E Day by various local industries, mercantile establishments, banking institutions, utilities, building trades and all other business establishments.

West appointed the following members of the committee to make contacts with various types of business and industry to invite them to participate as hosts to the school teachers on B-E Day: Charles L. Schulz, baking and dairy industries; Elmer E. Saylor, banks and savings and loan organizations; H. Melvin Gingrich, textile plants; W. L. Kline, utilities and transportation; C. J. Keiser, retailers of all kinds; E. K. Lindemuth, building trades and real estate; Charles S. Nagle, automotive firms. Other members of the committee will be given special assignments.

Beside those mentioned the following members of the committee attended the luncheon: Dr. G. A. McCormick, chairman of education committee for teachers; T. A. McCaslin 3d; James Spargos; Milton L. Eshbach; Alden J. Ramsdell; Dave Thompson; Floyd J. Sisto and Ralph Spare.

B-E DAY will be an entire day devoted to a study of business and industry by the teachers of the Pottstown area. Teachers will be given opportunity to elect the type business or industry they wish to visit.

Tours will be conducted for the teachers and conference discussion sessions arranged by the various business and industries which participate.

Dr. McCormick, superintendent of the Pottstown schools, indicated that teachers from Pottstown, Upper Pottsgrove, Lower Pottsgrove and North Coventry will participate in the day's activities and expressed appreciation for the willingness of business to extend the visitation invitations to the teachers.

The great man is the man who can get himself made and who will get himself made out of anything he finds at hand.—Gerald Stanley Lee.

The Soot Menace is Back

FALL is here, and with it come increasing complaints about the soot "menace." Pottstown borough councilmen, especially the representatives of the Ninth ward, would be wise to look into complaints that soot is dirtying the weekly laundry, smudging automobiles, and is lamplacking even trees, foliage and flowers!

The muggy days of early this week especially produced much filth in the Ninth ward, residents said. That probably was due to the heavy humidity and to the rain showers that probably brought more dirt down to earth.

Pottstown has been battling the soot months now for years. Cooperation was obtained from The Hill school, which was classed by residents in its vicinity as an offender, and few gripes have been heard from that area.

Surely, if The Hill has been able to control the soot from its huge furnaces, then industries in the Ninth ward should be able to limit the refuse.

Residents there have suffered much. It is laudable that they want their properties to be clean, that they resent having them dirtied.

So why shouldn't borough council insist on compliance with the anti-soot law?

Nature Calls the Turn

DID you ever wonder how the famous old law of supply and demand works? You saw a good example of the operation of that law this summer, just as you do every summer, in the trend of pork prices.

More than half of all pigs are born in the Spring, and it takes six months for them to reach marketable size. Thus, less pork is available during the Summer months. And as the supply goes down, while demand remains more or less constant, the price rises, reaching an annual high along about the latter part of August.

Come Fall, the trend is reversed. Pigs are marketed in great quantities. Supply is plentiful—and the inevitable result is that prices start to drop. The annual low is usually touched early in December.

In other words, natural law decrees that when a commodity is in abundance the price declines — and when it is comparatively scarce the price goes up. That has been true since men began bartering goods. It will remain true as long as the free market exists.

Every effort of man over the ages to change the law of supply and demand — through government controls, private combinations, or any other means—has eventually resulted in failure and, in many cases, national disaster. It doesn't pay to tamper with natural forces.

Pennies Count

THE Washington News recently ran this thoughtful little editorial: "Some of the greatest fortunes ever accumulated in this country were built on nickel and dime articles even penny items. Yet, in most cases, the profit margin on each item was exceedingly small, a tiny fraction of the selling price. The secret was in volume."

"The U. S. government is the biggest business in the world so there is no lack of volume. Pennies saved in volume will knock out deficits just as effectively as penny profits in volume will build up fortunes."

Mass distribution, which was pioneered by the chains and successfully taken up by other stores of all kinds, is as important to our living standards as its partner, mass production. And much of mass distribution's success has resulted from an unremitting war against waste and unnecessary overhead costs. The savings are passed on to the consumer, in the form of lower prices or better goods.

As the News implied, applying this idea to our incredibly costly government is necessary if the budget is to be balanced and eventual tax reduction made possible. Waste can ruin a family or a business—and a government as well.

Pulling Together Will Do It

MOST of the recent Labor Day speeches emphasized a point which all of us need to remember for another year — that the holiday celebrates an America made strong through cooperation between labor and management, not through perpetual struggle between them.

The labor of both skilled artisans and skilled executives is essential to the ever-greater productivity of our industries through which we will reach the goal of an ever-better America.

Let us all, between Labor Days, remind ourselves that we are in the same boat—and that only by pulling together, not against each other, will we reach the favored shore.

WASHINGTON

Seen Among Democrats

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Despite superficial signs of Democratic harmony every recent political development demonstrates that the ultraliberal faction responsible for the 1932 crack-up in the Presidential campaign has strengthened its grip on the Party's machinery.

The really influential figures of the conservative wing, as represented by the Byrd-Byrnes-Farley-Baruch element, are not impressed favorably by the strange combination of Truman bluster and Stevenson elegance. They will not participate actively in any reorganization of the Party under Truman-Stevenson auspices. They will sit out the temporary receivership in sullen silence.

Although the former President characterized the 1932 nominee as the "Number 1 Democrat," the Missouriian dominated the off-the-record decisions and discussions at the Chicago rally and at subsequent meetings of regional leaders. Insofar as it remains within his power, he will insist that the Party base future campaigns on his principles of politics and government.

Truman still entertains a personal affection for President Eisenhower. Both publicly and privately, however, he insists that the voters will be glad to reinstate Trumanism after four years of an Administration dedicated to the proposition that the Nation's affairs need prudent, conservative, thrifty and businesslike management. That way, he maintains, lies political oblivion.

BIZARRE ALLIANCE:

Truman produced no new theories, strategies or principles in outlining his plans for a Democratic comeback. He still relies on the bizarre alliance of voting elements which enabled his Party to land its men in the White House over a 20-year period.

He believes that the white-collar workers, the urban liberals, the farmers, labor and various racial groups will break away from the GOP in 1936, if not in the Congressional contests of 1934. He would pitch all appeals to these numerical and mercurial classes of voters. He would make no compromises with Dixie or Eisenhower Democrats in the interim.

"Eisenhower," said Truman to his hotel suite callers, "is playing directly into our hands. He is giving back to us the millions of voters who fell for his promises and personality the past year. In elaborating on this thesis, Truman pointed to organized labor's dissatisfaction, as evidenced by the resignation of Martin P. Durkin from the Cabinet. He predicted that falling farm prices, which he expects to continue, will bring back normally Republican farmers to the Democratic standard. He failed to note that the agricultural decline began before he had left the White House.

The reduction in Federal spending and scarce and dear money, he feels, will bear hard on the middle class that voted for Ike last year. In short, he counseled a campaign based on his own concepts of victorious politics—subsidies and spending to promote employment and activity, favoritism to labor and racial elements, and an economic program of "easy and plentiful money."

Pottstown SLOW AND EASY

Hint to Cure All Evils

To the Editor: I think the Pottstown banks and the barbers are doing the right thing in closing on different days. The banks close Saturdays and the barbers shut their shops Wednesdays.

We all work five days a week now, and I think the different shops ought to give their help off different days, breaking the workers into six groups. Like steel workers, rubber workers, carpenters, etc.

For instance, in one group the employees should be off on Mondays, in another group, on Tuesdays, and so on.

If each group represented, approximately, 16 percent of those gainfully employed, it would constitute a proportionate reduction, daily, in traffic congestion, crowding and scrambling in retail stores and other inconveniences.

If, in a given factory, the day off is Tuesday, it means that those working on Tuesday would be entitled to time and a half—but straight time on Saturday. Saturday should be like any other day. It would function as a day of rest only for those who happen to have chosen that day.

Under such a plan, more business would daily be transacted. Nobody could experience any aggravations or inconveniences.

Pottstown DOEHLER WORKER

Lack of Etiquette

To the Editor: What kind of bank management is there in Pottstown?

Recently, I had the misfortune of being a victim of modern methods of etiquette.

After working all day, I dropped off at the bank where I had some business to tend to. And after waiting in line for my turn, I finally made it to the teller's window.

Just as I approached the window, the teller completely ignored me and called upon a young man standing nearby. This made me angry because I had been waiting so long and when my turn came up, I found myself being shunned for someone who came much later.

When I told the teller about it, he said he was sorry, but he didn't see me. And as far as the young man is concerned, he didn't even say thanks.

I don't expect people to step out of their way for me, but I think I deserve my turn. Seems to me a little better management is needed during rush hours.

Pottstown PUSHED AROUND

Likes Coverage

To the Editor: I think The Mercury is to be congratulated for the fine coverage it always gives religious holidays of all faiths. I have enjoyed, for instance, finding out what Yom Kippur is about.

We do not have to agree with each other's faiths, but we are all better off if we at least understand them as they really are. I think that articles like that are an excellent way of promoting true tolerance.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

LOUISE F. is a young housewife who has recently become a prize contest fan. "Dr. Crane, after reading your column about contesting a few months ago, I made the plunge," she said, with a smile.

"And I won an electric dishwasher on my 9th entry, so it was well worth the effort. Besides, my husband works with me, and we find that contesting serves as an ideal mutual hobby."

"It is mentally stimulating, too, for we must consult encyclopedias for information."

"But here's a new problem I haven't met before. A New York writer offers to furnish the box tops and write the contest entry for anybody, all for a $10 fee."

"In other words, he'll send me everything and all I must do is sign my name to the contest letter, after he has written it. But he wants his $10 ghost writing fee in advance. Should I do so?"

NO, THIS sort of thing not only violates the spirit of the usual contest, but even if you were to spend $10 to have a New Yorker write your entry, you still have no guarantee that you will win anything thereon.

Moreover, you lose the mental stimulation of digging out the facts from an encyclopedia. And there is no longer any mutual hobby for yourself and your husband or wife, if the two of you have been working contests together.

Besides, if a professional ghost writer could be sure of winning the big prizes, he would submit his entries in his own name or that of his relatives.

For in many national contests nowadays, the top prize may be $10,000 in cash or even more.

So many talented writers enter prize contests, since that is big money in any man's language for just a 100-word letter.

PREVIOUSLY I have told you that Mrs. Crane and I devoted almost the entire first year of our marriage to prize contesting.

We won dozens of prizes, ranging from $1 up to a couple of $1000 first prizes. But at our best, I doubt if we won more than once out of eight times.

We were bush leaguers compared to many contestants. I have met men who spend their entire time as professional contestants. They have elaborate suites of offices, filled with the latest encyclopedias, etc.

ARREST SPEEDERS — Police Patrolman Isaac Galloway and Thomas Lawler are continuing their drive against motor speeding and unnecessary noise. The warrants are being sworn out before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, and fines are being imposed.

ANNIVERSARY — Royersford Church of the Brethren celebrated its 50th anniversary. The Rev. Caleb W. Bucher is pastor of the church at Third and Washington streets. Addresses were made by Dr. Linwood Eisenberg, Shippensburg, and the Rev. William G. Nyce, Harmonyville. William S. Price is the only living member of the original building committee.

EVER HEAR OF CAVIAR?

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—Unconscious Humor Department: Does Columbia studio reahbilly think Rita Hayworth will report Oct. 1 to start "The Human Beast," just because the boss publicly announced it? In the midst of all the hair-pulling over what's going on, studio brass no doubt thought to keep Hayworth and Dick Haymes from leaping off the deep end next week by calling her back to work. Ho, Ho! That's rich! . . . Despite his fan popularity, Ricardo Montalban isn't being renewed at Metro. You can expect at least half a dozen more of this lot's luminaries to be dropped within weeks. However, Ricardo isn't lacking for offers. . . . Jan Sterling and Paul Douglas host a huge Don Loper fashion show at their home Sunday, but "guests" must buy tickets. Proceeds go to the St. Thomas church building fund.

Rita Hayworth

ARTHUR GODFREY is so high on songbird Lou Ann Simms, already quite popular. She has a good voice and delivers—but is reminiscent of Peggy Lee. The gal would get where Godfrey hopes quicker by changing her style a bit. . . . Nat King Cole can't be blamed—he's always tops. But how about his new record, "A Fool Was I?" Composed by Kurt Adams and Roy Alfred—it says here. We think it's the most brazen carbon (music and lyrics) of a number in many a year! Sing Bing's oldie, "Just One More Chance," before or after "Fool"—and flip!

MENTIONED COUPLES days ago that once famed musical comedy star, Hazel Dawn is working as an office receptionist. Just remembered Kay Williams Spreckels plays the role of Hazel Dawn (as "The Pink Lady") in the Spencer Tracy-Teresa Wright picture, "The Actress," soon out. That's the new title. It's actually "Years Ago," the Ruth Gordon B'way play. . . . Anatole Litvak, who directed the Kirk Douglas starrer, "Act of Love" in Europe is due home next week. Hear he's bringing leading lady, Dany Rubin (a French ballerina) along to promote her Hollywood career. . . . Hosts and hostesses abroad aren't exactly fighting each other for the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor at their parties anymore. The pair have lost a goshawful amount of "face."

Cherry Tree Blossoms . . .

★ YOUTHFUL—Now we've just about heard everything! Walter A. Wolf, the sire of Ringing Rocks park, is a spry youngster of 73. With all those years on his shoulders, Wolf still is a glutton for work and activity. But he came up with a childish report that smacks of incredulity! Says he was felled for several days with that juvenile ailment, the mumps! And at 73! Just how young can you get? . . . There's a sign of Spring, too, in this 1933 Autumn in another section of the Pottstown area. It's in a tree this time, but life is blossoming anew there. It's a cherry tree on the premises of Charles R. Faust, the telephone worker of 114 Pearl street, Hanover Heights. Faust said the cherry tree did not fruit this year, but today there're many blossoms on its limbs! Yes, youth springs eternal!

COMPLETE REMODELING JOB

—CALVIN HARP JR., of the Harp Brothers Taxi company, 18 South Hanover street, is remodeling the old house at 69 North Charlotte street. A picture window has been installed in the front of the house and the interior is being rearranged and redecorated. The home will remain a single dwelling unit, borough building inspection officials said. . . . MR. AND MRS. ★ COLLECTOR WANTED—Paul Chancellor, head of the humanities program at The Hill, has come up with some light to throw on an unusual request relayed here from a woman in Akron, Ohio. She owns a painting by a Peter Fred Rothmel, who she said "was born in your city in 1817 and gained fame as a portrait painter." Chancellor learned that Rothmel, though born in Luzerne county, did live in the Pottstown area for the last 18 years of his life, from 1877 to 1895. He lived at "Grassmere," an estate near Linfield. Rothmel gained national fame for both his historical paintings and portraits. He was a student at, and later a director of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. The Akron woman's picture is a painting, 15 feet square, apparently done in Rothmel's student days. She'd like to sell it to someone collecting Rothmels. Chancellor said that the market for 15-square-foot student paintings was not brisk but suggested that the academy might be interested.

IRA ON THE SPOT—IRA RUSSELL, Graterford, saved a member of the Building Industries Exchange from considerable embarrassment during Monday night's big parade. The member inadvertently had hung an American flag upside down over his office before the parade. Russell spotted it quickly and the red-faced flag-flier righted things quickly. Speaking of Russell, here's the reason he doesn't fear driving car number 13 in the novice and novelty races he enters at Sanatoga speedway: He was born May 13, 1913. Recently he was in a 13-car race in 13. Finished fifth.

★ CHICK CHECKING—Charles Shupe, owner of Shupe and Windle incorporated feed mill, 219 North Hanover street, is the subject of a feature article in the September issue of "The Feed Bag," trade publication. Coming in for special attention is the flock of chickens he keeps for experimental feeding. He uses his flock not only for testing what he sells but in diagnosing local chicken ills. The article mentions that Shupe recently purchased the interest in the firm held by Spencer Windle and is now conducting the entire operation himself. The article has pictures of Shupe and the old mill. . . . Employees of Firestone Tire and Rubber company's Pottstown plant who were watching the Firestone Hour on television Monday night got a pleasant shock of recognition when at the end of the program, the cameras panned over the audience. One of the recognizable men in his party was Tom Henry, sales promotion manager at the local plant. The show originates in New York city.

MUSICAL UNIT HOLDS PRACTICE

Symphony Orchestra Seeks Additional Strings

Is there a violinist or a cellist in your family?

If so, Kenneth Morse would like to hear about it.

Morse is conductor of the Pottstown symphony orchestra, now rehearsing every Tuesday night at the Moose auditorium.

"We've got enough reeds, brass and percussion," he revealed after the first rehearsal last night. "What we need now are local strings."

It takes 80 to 90 musicians to make a symphony orchestra.

"WE'LL probably have 16 to 20 musicians from Pottstown in the group," Morse explained. "The others will come from a surrounding 30-mile area."

Last night's rehearsal was in the nature of a series of auditions. Next week the real work of rehearsal starts.

Morse said he would be glad to hear more auditions at that time. Rehearsals are held in the small auditorium at the Moose home beginning at 8 p. m.

New Classes Begun By Guard Unit Here

The first of a new series of non-commissioned officer classes was held last night by Company A, 111th Infantry, RCT, of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Meeting at the armory, the group was under the direction of Capt. Harold C. Baumann, commanding officer.

Captain Baumann reported that the purpose of the school is to give non-coms instruction in teaching classes so they might pass on their knowledge in the correct manner.

He also pointed out that because of the Jacobs Aircraft Engine company exhibit, all company drills were cancelled.

Instructor during the class session was M/Sgt. James W. Tooley, who taught the principles of squad formations.

Next class will be taught by M/Sgt. Dallas A. Wilson. Subject will be, "The Squad in the Attack."

4-YEAR-OLD GIRL WALKS INTO CAR

Is Shaken 'Up But Unhurt Says Mother

A 4-year-old Pottstown girl, who went visiting all by herself, walked into a moving car as she returned to her home yesterday afternoon.

Cynthia Louise Minnick, 616 Beech street, was frightened but uninjured after she stepped into a car driven by Anthony F. Berardi, Schwenksville RD 1.

Motor Patrolman Earl Rhoads reported the little girl walked from between two parked cars and into the side of Berardi's car which was traveling east on Beech street.

Berardi gave this account of the accident: "I stopped and got out and could not see the little girl. There were some people standing around and one of them said, 'That's the girl who ran into your car.' This girl was standing on the sidewalk. I took the girl to Pottstown hospital in my car."

Cynthia Louise was discharged after an examination revealed no injuries.

The accident took place at 2:45 o'clock.

Her mother, Mrs. George Frymoyer, said last night, "She's all right now. She was just shaken up a little."

Station Wagon Spins Into Vacant Lot in Royersford Crash

A traffic accident at Third avenue and Washington street, Royersford, yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock spun one car into an empty lot. Neither driver of two cars involved was injured. Total damage was estimated at $100.

According to police, Joseph Fazio, 182 High street, Phoenixville, driving a late model sedan, was going west on Washington street. John C. Willard, 2930 North 12th street, Philadelphia, going south on Third avenue in a new station wagon, had nearly cleared the Washington street intersection. Fazio's sedan collided with the rear of the station wagon and whirled it around into the lot on the southeast corner. The only damage was to the grille and front bumper of the sedan and to the left rear fender of the station wagon.

Police Chief Bryson Turner investigated.

CHURCH CLASS LIGHTS WINDOW

Comet Members Sponsor Floodlighting Scene of Sermon on Mount

The large window in Royersford Grace Lutheran church, depicting the Sermon on the Mount, has been floodlighted by the Comet Sunday school class, taught by Mrs. Donald Ayres.

The lights are controlled by a clock and will be flooding the window each evening for several hours.

Members of the class who financed the project are James Iselt, Clark Shaner, Carl Straub, Stephen Finkbner, Richard Tyler, William Rogers, Robert Wolfe and Robert Carl.

The Rainbow class, taught by Arline Winter, has assumed full financial responsibility for the renovation and furnishing of the kitchen, which is to be a part of the social rooms in the parish house.

A COMMITTEE, appointed by the president, Mrs. Darwin Buckwalter, to supervise the work is composed of Mrs. Bertha Heller, Mrs. Lillian Iselt, Mrs. Florence Hesh and Mrs. Clara Thomas.

All officers, teachers and workers of Grace Lutheran Sunday school will travel to Reading by bus Sept. 29, to see the "Martin Luther" motion picture.

The picture, sponsored by the Lutheran church, attracts great crowds wherever it is shown. The film was made in Germany, Luther's home country. Current showings are in Philadelphia and Reading. It is expected the film will be shown in Pottstown sometime this fall.

Linderman Pupils, Teachers Reunite

Linderman's school teachers and pupils held their 10th annual reunion Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klumpp, opposite the school site, Route 422.

Burgess William Griffith, Pottstown, called the meeting to order. The Rev. W. H. Kautler opened the meeting with prayer. After routine business games were played, followed by a social time.

Officers for 1954 are: the Rev. Kautler, president; Francis Peterman, vice president; Mary Slepicka, secretary-treasurer; Elizabeth Klumpp, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The president appointed two committees: Publicity, Jane Tyson and William Miller; program, Mary Spare, Laura Schlichter, Flora Stahl and Violet Yeagle.

Spring City Little League Members Will Attend Banquet Tomorrow Night

Spring City Little league ball players will line up at the festive board for the first annual banquet tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in Spring City hotel.

All boys affiliated with any of the teams entered in the league have been invited to attend. At least 65 are expected to be present. Steak platters will be served, after which movies will be shown. Commissioner Everett Brower said all boys will be taken to their homes after the affair, relieving parents of the responsibility.

Four teams, the Athletics, Yankees, Phillies and Indians formed the circuit which played its first season the past Summer. The A's copped the pennant by defeating the Yankees in a play-off. Boys, aged eight to 12 years, made up the four clubs.

Twelve of the players will be "retired" as the banquet tomorrow night, because of reaching the age limit. They will be replaced next season by yearlings who served on the bench.

Boys leaving the league are: Larry Wolford, a pitcher and catcher; Wally Marsland, an outfielder and Jon Beard, a third baseman, all of the Yankees, and

USO Letter Week Will Be Launched Here; Mail to Servicemen Stressed

If you've been thinking about writing someone a letter, now's a good time to start thinking harder.

Jacob R. Sotter announced yesterday that the USO "Letter Week" — aimed at increasing the flow of mail to servicemen — would begin here Monday.

And J. Alfred Marquet, borough postmaster, announced that "National Letter Week" would begin Oct. 4. Its aim is to increase the flow of letters generally.

Sotter is chairman of a committee that meets today at 12:10 p. m. at Brookside Country club to decide on ways to make Pottstonians conscious of the importance of mail to servicemen, particularly those overseas.

The USO Letter Week nationally was this week, but the Pottstown group was delayed a week.

Object of the drive, Sotter said, "is to show servicemen we're interested." He noted that mail still has "the highest priority" among servicemen's requests.

Roger Firestone is honorary chairman of the group. Other members are Douglas V. O'Dell, Joseph L. Prince, John Katona, C. Robert Flinn, John Shaner, Howard W. Bartholomew, Mrs. Herbert Houck, Dr. Daniel Lee, Mrs. Charles Lichtenwalner, the Rev. Edward S. Horn.

Also, Charles Nagle, E. T. Handley, Walter Bass, O. C. Beacraft, William F. Lamb Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Doly, Dr. Emil Schorsch, Benjamin H. Longaker, Earl R. Strange, Mrs. G. M. Weber, Vinicio Fisher and Robert Reis.

For the other week, the postmaster said posters stressing the theme, "Letters Bring Happiness," will be put up in stationery stores and other appropriate stores.

During the week, the postoffice department will encourage use of special services such as air mail.

Station Wagon Spins Into Vacant Lot in Royersford Crash

A traffic accident at Third avenue and Washington street, Royersford, yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock spun one car into an empty lot. Neither driver of two cars involved was injured. Total damage was estimated at $100.

According to police, Joseph Fazio, 182 High street, Phoenixville, driving a late model sedan, was going west on Washington street. John C. Willard, 2330 North 12th street, Philadelphia, going south on Third avenue in a new station wagon, had nearly cleared the Washington street intersection. Fazio's sedan collided with the rear of the station wagon and whirled it around into the lot on the southeast corner. The only damage was to the grille and front bumper of the sedan and to the left rear fender of the station wagon.

Police Chief Bryson Turner investigated.

Oct. 1 to Mark Start Of Religion Classes

Classes in religion for all children of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades of Spring City public schools will begin in four Spring City churches Thursday, Oct. 1, at 2:15 o'clock. This will be the eighth year for the program.

Permits will be distributed to the children of the public schools by the principal. They must be signed by one parent of the child and returned to the school. No child will be allowed to attend these classes without a signed permit.

Pastors of the co-operating churches are: The Rev. Paul E. Baer, Mennonite Brethren in Christ; the Rev. Garnet O. Adams, First Evangelical and Reformed; the Rev. Ralph L. Alderfer, Lutheran; and the Rev. Charles F. Salkeld, Methodist.

CHURCH CLASS LIGHTS WINDOW

Comet Members Sponsor Floodlighting Scene of Sermon on Mount

The large window in Royersford Grace Lutheran church, depicting the Sermon on the Mount, has been floodlighted by the Comet Sunday school class, taught by Mrs. Donald Ayres.

The lights are controlled by a clock and will be flooding the window each evening for several hours.

Members of the class who financed the project are James Isett, Clark Shaner, Carl Straub, Stephen Finkbner, Richard Tyler, William Rogers, Robert Wolfe and Robert Carl.

The Rainbow class, taught by Arline Winter, has assumed full financial responsibility for the renovation and furnishing of the kitchen, which is to be a part of the social rooms in the parish house.

A COMMITTEE, appointed by the president, Mrs. Darwin Buckwalter, to supervise the work is composed of Mrs. Bertha Heller, Mrs. Lillian Isett, Mrs. Florence Hesh and Mrs. Clara Thomas.

All officers, teachers and workers of Grace Lutheran Sunday school will travel to Reading by bus Sept. 29, to see the "Martin Luther" motion picture.

The picture, sponsored by the Lutheran church, attracts great crowds wherever it is shown. The film was made in Germany, Luther's home country. Current showings are in Philadelphia and Reading. It is expected the film will be shown in Pottstown sometime this fall.

Linderman Pupils, Teachers Reunite

Linderman's school teachers and pupils held their 10th annual reunion Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klump, opposite the school site, Route 422.

Burgess William Griffith, Pottstown, called the meeting to order. The Rev. W. H. Kauler opened the meeting with prayer. After routine business games were played, followed by a social time.

Officers for 1954 are: the Rev. Kauler, president; Francis Peterman, vice president; Mary Slepicka, secretary-treasurer; Elizabeth Klump, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The president appointed two committees: Publicity, Jane Tyson and William Miller; program, Mary Spare, Laura Schlichter, Flora Stahl and Violet Yeagle.

Spring City Little League Members Will Attend Banquet Tomorrow Night

Spring City Little League ball players will line up at the festive board for the first annual banquet tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in Spring City hotel.

All boys affiliated with any of the teams entered in the league have been invited to attend. At least 65 are expected to be present. Steak platters will be served, after which movies will be shown. Commissioner Everett Brower said all boys will be taken to their homes after the affair, relieving parents of the responsibility.

Four teams, the Athletics, Yankees, Phillies and Indians formed the circuit which played its first season the past summer. The A's capped the pennant by defeating the Yankees in a play-off. Boys, aged eight to 12 years, made up the four clubs.

Twelve of the players will be "retired" as the banquet tomorrow night, because of reaching the age limit. They will be replaced next season by yearlings who served on the bench.

Boys leaving the league are: Larry Wolford, a pitcher and catcher; Wally Marsland, an outfielder and Jon Beard, a third baseman, all of the Yankees, and

USO Letter Week Will Be Launched Here; Mail to Servicemen Stressed

If you've been thinking about writing someone a letter, now's a good time to start thinking harder.

Jacob R. Sotter announced yesterday that the USO "Letter Week" — aimed at increasing the flow of mail to servicemen — would begin here Monday.

And J. Alfred Marquet, borough postmaster, announced that "National Letter Week" would begin Oct. 4. Its aim is to increase the flow of letters generally.

Sotter is chairman of a committee that meets today at 12:10 p. m. at Brookside Country club to decide on ways to make Pottstonians conscious of the importance of mail to servicemen, particularly those overseas.

The USO Letter Week nationally was this week, but the Pottstown group was delayed a week.

Object of the drive, Sotter

said, "is to show servicemen we're interested." He noted that mail still has "the highest priority" among servicemen's requests.

Roger Firestone is honorary chairman of the group. Other members are Douglas V. O'Dell, Joseph L. Prince, John Katona, C. Robert Flinn, John Shaner, Howard W. Bartholomew, Mrs. Herbert Houck, Dr. Daniel Lee, Mrs. Charles Lichtenwalner, the Rev. Edward S. Horn.

Also, Charles Nagle, E. T. Handley, Walter Bass, O. C. Beacraft, William F. Lamb Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Doty, Dr. Emil Schorsch, Benjamin H. Longaker, Earl R. Strange, Mrs. G. M. Weber, Vinicio Fisher and Robert Reis.

For the other week, the postmaster said posters stressing the theme, "Letters Bring Happiness," will be put up in stationery stores and other appropriate stores.

During the week, the postoffice department will encourage use of special services such as air mail.

DRIVER DAZED AS CAR PLUNGES INTO DEEP HOLE

Auto Skids, Shears Pole
Before Dropping
25 Feet

A 1950 coupe plunged down a hole 25 to 30 feet deep and only about 20 feet in diameter along Route 100 south of Pughtown early yesterday.

The dazed driver crawled out of the hole with nothing worse than a small scratch on one hand and a slight bruise on one leg.

South Coventry Police Chief Robert F. Conway estimated total damage at a minimum of $1400.

The hole was to be filled with the concrete base of the new, wider French Creek bridge. This work is part of the widening of Route 100 underway in South Coventry. Near the bottom of the hole were wooden forms where the concrete would be poured.

THE DRIVER, 29-year-old Thomas J. Jenkins, Downingtown, said he was driving north on the highway about 45 miles an hour shortly after midnight, when the car skidded completely across the highway on a curve.

The coupe hit a utility pole on the edge of the hole. The car took the pole with it in the dizzy drop.

The car and pole splintered the wooden forms. The car landed on all four wheels. Chief Conway said he believed the forms had broken the car's fall enough to keep the driver, who was alone, from being seriously or fatally injured.

A big truck from Elverson pulled the car out.

The South Coventry police chief estimated damage to the car, which had its entire front end smashed, at $800. Damage to the pole and wires he listed at $200 to $250, and damage to the forms and other construction work at $400 to $500.

When Chief Conway arrived, the dazed driver said to him, "You mean I was in that when it went down there?" Chief Conway told him he certainly was.

The police chief directed traffic at the scene as well as investigated.

FREED PRISONERS —

Patricia O'Connor, another sister. Also on hand to welcome the area heroes was the Rev. John Najja, rector of St. Peter's Catholic church. The Kuzmechs are members of his church.

For the two ex-prisoners it was the end of a gruelling trip that started half way around the world in Korea and that carried them thousands of miles via air, land and sea.

The welcoming scenes at the airport broke up quickly to get the two men to comfortable quarters as soon as possible.

CAPT. AND Mrs. O'Connor were driven to their Pottstown RD 4 home. The Kuzmechs were brought to their Gilbertville home.

Transportation to carry the parties the last few miles from Philadelphia was provided by George Royer, general manager of Cates and Becker. The two cars he furnished were driven by Bill Sevast and John Krause, the latter a friend of the young lieutenant.

Both the lieutenant and the captain were looking forward to days of relaxation, rest and good food, after their long ordeals.

After a few weeks, they'll report to Valley Forge Army hospital, Phoenixville, for further medical checkups.

The last leg of their return-home trip hit a few snags. The plane left San Francisco at 9:45 p. m. Monday night (12:45 a. m. Tuesday Pottstown time) and arrived at Chicago about 7:30 a. m. yesterday.

The flight out of Chicago was two hours late in leaving. The instrument indicating the number of revolutions being made by one engine was inoperative.

Departure time was announced twice, only to be postponed twice because of the difficulty.

FINALLY, the plane took off for a short stop at Detroit and then Philadelphia.

Everybody enjoyed the trip and the dramatic five-day stay in San Francisco, but yesterday afternoon, everybody was happy to leave the plane.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuzmeh, parents of the lieutenant, were visibly strained and eager to reach the calm and quiet of their Congo road home.

The ordeal of sleeping on planes, being awakened at various times of the night to make connections while in San Francisco was beginning to show on the two young O'Connor children, who had gone through the trip like travel veterans.

Meanwhile, the past three days—in San Francisco and every city at which the plane stopped on the way back—were a series of reunions with other ex-prisoners of war.

A final reunion of about 12 freed prisoners was held informally Monday at the famous Top of the Mark Hopkins.

PRESENT were officers of various rank, including the first jet pilot shot down over Korea, and the two Americans that General Dean saw first after being released by Reds.

(The first thing the general asked, after seeing American soldiers for the first time since his capture, was, "What kind of food did you get?")

At Chicago, the two men from the Pottstown area ran into an Air Force colonel who also was on his way home. He had been with them in Camp 2.

The O'Connors and Kuzmechs both repeated to people of the area their great thanks for the wonderful way in which they contributed to make it possible to have the families on the West coast for their arrival.

"It was really a wonderful thing," Lt. Kuzmeh said. "I hope you'll put something in The Mercury about how grateful we are to all the people."

Mrs. Thomas O'Connor, mother of the captain, said, "It was like a dream. It's the most wonderful trip I've ever made in my life. I would never have believed it would happen to me."

Small Representation Of Local Firemen Seen at Convention

It appears as if the State Fireman's convention in Reading Oct. 6-7 may not be as well attended as anticipated.

A check with local and Stowe fire companies last night revealed that only one delegate will attend with the possibility of another also making the trip.

Douglas Ludwig, of the West End Fire company, reported that he has plans of attending the two-day convention, while Robert Roth, of the Good Will Fire company, said there is a possibility that he might make the trip.

President Joseph Kough, Empire Hook and Ladder Fire company, together with John Coyle, spokesman for the Philadelphia Scream Engine company, explained that none of their members was making the jaunt.

THE other company reporting was the North End, which is still in the process of establishing itself.

John B. Hartenstine Jr., president, noted that since the organization is so young, it hasn't planned on sending anyone to the gathering.

DRIVER DAZED AS CAR PLUNGES INTO DEEP HOLE

Auto Skids, Shears Pole Before Dropping 25 Feet

A 1950 coupe plunged down a hole 25 to 30 feet deep and only about 20 feet in diameter along Route 100 south of Pottstown early yesterday.

The dazed driver crawled out of the hole with nothing worse than a small scratch on one hand and a slight bruise on one leg.

South Coventry Police Chief Robert F. Conway estimated total damage at a minimum of $1400.

The hole was to be filled with the concrete base of the new, wider French Creek bridge. This work is part of the widening of Route 100 underway in South Coventry. Near the bottom of the hole were wooden forms where the concrete would be poured.

THE DRIVER, 29-year-old Thomas J. Jenkins, Downingtown, said he was driving north on the highway about 45 miles an hour shortly after midnight, when the car skidded completely across the highway on a curve.

The coupe hit a utility pole on the edge of the hole. The car took the pole with it in the dizzy drop.

The car and pole splintered the wooden forms. The car landed on all four wheels. Chief Conway said he believed the forms had broken the car's fall enough to keep the driver, who was alone, from being seriously or fatally injured.

A big tow truck from Elverson pulled the car out.

The South Coventry police chief estimated damage to the car, which had its entire front end smashed, at $800. Damage to the pole and wires he listed at $200 to $250, and damage to the forms and other construction work at $400 to $500.

When Chief Conway arrived, the dazed driver said to him, "You mean I was in that when it went down there?" Chief Conway told him he certainly was.

The police chief directed traffic at the scene as well as investigated.

FREED PRISONERS —

Patricia O'Connor, another sister. Also on hand to welcome the area heroes was the Rev. John Naja, rector of St. Peter's Catholic church. The Kuzmecs are members of his church.

For the two ex-prisoners it was the end of a grueling trip that started half way around the world in Korea and that carried them thousands of miles via air, land and sea.

The welcoming scenes at the airport broke up quickly to get the two men to comfortable quarters as soon as possible.

CAPT. AND Mrs. O'Connor were driven to their Pottstown RD. 4 home. The Kuzmecs were brought to their Gilbertsville home.

Transportation to carry the parties the last few miles from Philadelphia was provided by George Rorer, general manager of Cates and Becker. The two cars he furnished were driven by Bill Sevast and John Krause, the latter a friend of the young lieutenant.

Both the lieutenant and the captain were looking forward to days of relaxation, rest and good food, after their long ordeals.

After a few weeks, they'll report to Valley Forge Army hospital, Phoenixville, for further medical checkups.

The last leg of their return-home trip hit a few snags.

The plane left San Francisco at 9:45 p. m. Monday night (12:45 a. m. Tuesday Pottstown time) and arrived at Chicago about 7:30 a. m. yesterday.

The flight out of Chicago was two hours late in leaving. The instrument indicating the number of revolutions being made by one engine was inoperative.

Departure time was announced twice, only to be postponed twice because of the difficulty.

FINALLY, the plane took off for a short stop at Detroit and then Philadelphia.

Everybody enjoyed the trip and the dramatic five-day stay in San Francisco, but yesterday afternoon, everybody was happy to leave the plane.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuzmecz, parents of the lieutenant, were visibly strained and eager to reach the calm and quiet of their Congo road home.

The ordeal of sleeping on planes, being awakened at various times of the night to make connections while in San Francisco was beginning to show on the two young O'Connor children, who had gone through the trip like travel veterans.

Meanwhile, the past three days—in San Francisco and every city at which the plane stopped on the way back—were a series of reunions with other ex-prisoners of war.

A final reunion of about 12 freed prisoners was held informally Monday at the famous Top of the Mark Hopkins.

PRESENT were officers of various rank, including the first jet pilot shot down over Korea, and the two Americans that General Dean saw first after being released by Reds.

(The first thing the general asked, after seeing American soldiers for the first time since his capture, was, "What kind of food did you get?")

At Chicago, the two men from the Pottstown area ran into an Air Force colonel who also was on his way home. He had been with them in Camp 2.

The O'Connors and Kuzmecs both repeated to people of the area their great thanks for the wonderful way in which they contributed to make it possible to have the families on the West coast for their arrival.

"It was really a wonderful thing," Lt. Kuzmecz said. "I hope you'll put something in The Mercury about how grateful we are to all the people."

Mrs. Thomas O'Connor, mother of the captain, said, "It was like a dream. It's the most wonderful trip I've ever made in my life. I would never have believed it would happen to me."

Small Representation Of Local Firemen Seen at Convention

It appears as if the State Fireman's convention in Reading Oct. 6-7 may not be as well attended as anticipated.

A check with local and Stowe fire companies last night revealed that only one delegate will attend with the possibility of another also making the trip.

Douglas Ludwig, of the West End Fire company, reported that he has plans of attending the two-day convention, while Robert Roth, of the Good Will Fire company, said there is a possibility that he might make the trip.

President Joseph Keough, Empire Hook and Ladder Fire company, together with John Coyle, spokesman for the Philadelphia Steam Engine company, explained that none of their members was making the jaunt.

THE other company reporting was the North End, which is still in the process of establishing itself.

John B. Hartenstine Jr., president, noted that since the organization is so young, it hasn't planned on sending anyone to the gathering.

Young Pottstown Auxiliaries Join Forces To Form Combined Teenage Organization

Henceforth the Deb-Aide and Teen-Aide Auxiliaries of the Pottstown hospital will be known as the Teenage Auxiliary.

This was decided at Sunday's combined meeting of the two groups.

The meeting was called to order by Deb-Aide president, Claire Bush, assisted by the Teen-Aide president, Kay McCarthy.

Minutes were read by both secretaries and treasury reports given by both groups.

Mrs. Karl Schmacher, president of the Service auxiliary, told the girls that the auxiliary was very proud of the excellent work they had done in the hospital.

Mrs. Schmacher in turn introduced Mrs. Reid J. McCarthy who explained that no one would be permitted to work in the hospital unless she had received instructions. They will begin Oct. 18, during the latter part of the regular meeting.

Mrs. Arthur Mann and Mrs. Joseph Zukoski will be the instructors for the course. Mrs. Mann told the group that lists of their duties would be posted on all floors in the hospital.

The girls voted to hold their "Football Jamboree Dance" in October. The date will be announced later.

Officers for the coming year will be installed at the October meeting.

Included in the nominating committee are Claire Bush, Kay McCarthy, Dale Lang and Marjorie Hampton.

Function of Fire Tower Told to Brownies By Curtis English, Hopewell Park Manager

A visit to Hopewell Fire Tower was the highlight of the past week's meeting of Brownie troop 23, First Presbyterian church.

Curtis English, park manager, answered the girls' questions and explained to them just how a fire is reported if spotted from the tower.

Before visiting the tower the Brownies ate their lunches in the picnic area of Hopewell park.

Following lunch the girls gathered around and learned nature hints under the instruction of Mrs. H. B. Fisher, a former Girl Scout leader from Missouri, and grandmother of Brownie Susan Williams.

Visiting Hopewell tower were: Sherry Boyer, Sally and Suzanne Clapp, Cynthia Griffiths, Gail Hart, Diane Kendig, Jeanne Marcy, Linda McCabe, Peggy Missimer, Barbara Mohler, Mary Rowland, Gail Schneider, JoAnn Schumacher and Kathryn Sensenig.

Visitors were: Anette Sensenig, Carol Jones, Bonnie Brubaker, Mrs. H. B. Fisher and Mrs. W. R. Williams.

Mothers providing transportation were: Mrs. C. B. Welch, Mrs. Stanley Boyer and Mrs. Robert Clapp.

Leaders present were Doris L. Maimone, Mrs. Albert Spangenberg and Mrs. Caryl Keller.

Helen Claire Frederick will conduct Saturday's business session which will be followed by craftwork. The meeting will be at 1:30 at the church.

Alternate slices of cooked beets and hard-cooked eggs on salad greens and serve with a dressing of olive oil, red wine vinegar, prepared mustard, salt and pepper. This makes an unusually delicious luncheon course when it is served with whole-wheat bread and cream-cheese sandwiches.

Sunnybrook Picnic Begins Season for Troop 5 Girl Scouts

A cook-out supper at Sunnybrook park was the highlight of the first Fall meeting of the Girl Scouts, Troop 5, First Presbyterian church.

The menu featured roasted hotdogs, raw carrots with potato chips and toasted marshmallows for dessert.

A meeting followed the supper at which time the girls sang scout songs and planned a breakfast cook-out for Saturday. The group was divided in half for a game of softball.

After the closing circle and the benediction, they departed.

Those present were: Barbara Morgan, Judy McClellan, Sara Morrell, Patty Piesol, Lynn Prizer, Grace Rowland, Margaret I. Sensenig, Betty Weber, Phyllis Wespis, Marsha Ziegler.

Jane Creswell, Linda Smale, Kay O'Donnell, Marian Marcy, Barbara Lord, Shirley Graham, Judy Berman, Nancy Eisenmenger, Karen Stauffer, Annette Sensenig, Susan Whisler and Jeanette Christman.

Leaders were as follows: Mrs. Lee Kuhn, Mrs. Edward Schumacher, Mrs. Bruce Weeber and Mrs. Walter B. McClellan.

A little chopped chutney added to mayonnaise makes a most delicious dressing for lobster or crabmeat salad.

Marjorie Swavely Is Bride at Ceremony Performed in Coventry Brethren Church

Marjorie Dawn Swavely and William T. Berriker exchanged vows recently at a ceremony performed in the Coventry Brethren church. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Swavely, 410 South Keim street, Kenilworth.

Mr. Berriker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berriker, Douglassville RD 1.

The Rev. D. Howard Keiper performed the double ring rites before an altar decorated with white gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

A recital of nuptial music was provided by Marian Updegrave, organist and Esther Scheffey, vocal soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The basque bodice was styled with a mandarin collar and the sleeves were long and tapered.

Alternating panels of lace and nylon tulle formed the bouffant skirt. A headpiece studded with rhinestones anchored the bride's chapel length veil which was bordered with matching Chantilly lace.

She carried a prayerbook topped with a white orchid.

Nancy Swavely, sister of the bride, maid of honor, was gown in matching Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. She wore a matching picture hat and mitts.

Ann Marie Semet, South Pottstown, served as bridesmaid. Her gown was identical to that of the maid of honor. Both carried baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Rodney Berriker, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Ralph Hunsinger and Calvin Berriker.

A reception at the North Coventry Grange hall followed the ceremony. The mother of the bride wore a frock of gun-metal gray while the groom's mother chose navy blue.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Lake Wallenpaupak the newlyweds will reside at Douglassville RD 1.

For going-away the bride wore a pink suit with white accessories and a white orchid. Mr. Berriker is employed by the Doehler-Jarvis Corp.

Moser-Schaeffer Wedding Ceremony Solemnized in Bechtelsville Church

A double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Henry Harms at the Trinity church, Bechtelsville, united Anna Moser and Carl Schaeffer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Moser, Boyertown RD 1.

The groom's father is Edwin Schaeffer, Oley RD 1.

Preceding the ceremony guests were entertained by an organ recital by Mrs. Alverda Conrad. Included in her repertoire were "Because," "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a wedding dress a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over gossamer satin. The snug fitting bodice was encrusted with pearls and rhinestones. The bouffant skirt was underscored with a series of petticoats.

A button down the front Spencer jacket styled with a pert collar and long sleeves ending in points over her wrists completed her ensemble. Her elbow length veil fell from a crown of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Russell Dierolf, the bride's sister, attended her as matron of honor.

Her gown of heavenly rose was fashioned with a tulip bodice and a handkerchief designed waistline edged in matching lace.

Her gown was topped with an Elton jacket with cap sleeves. She also wore matching mitts and carried pink.

Edwin Schaeffer Jr., Birdsboro, performed the duties of the best man.

Ushering at the ceremony were Melvin Moser, Barto RD 1, and Daniel Schaeffer.

Pink and white were the colors of the decorations in the Barto Fire hall where the reception was held.

The newlyweds are residing at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Schaeffer is employed by the Great American Knitting Mill, Bechtelsville. Her husband is associated with the Eastern Foundry, Boyertown.

BOYERTOWN newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schaeffer. Mrs. Schaeffer will be remembered as the former Anna Moser.

Advice to new cooks: To blanch almonds, pour boiling water over them and let them stand just until the skins wrinkle. Drain the nuts and slip off the skins with your fingers. If you want to cut the blanched nuts into even slivers, do so with a small sharp knife while they're still damp and warm.

Following the president, Mrs. William Hurter's introduction of PTA officers, board members and teachers, parents were given an opportunity to visit their children's instructors.

Name cards worn by the parents and teachers aided in the production of a friendly atmosphere. At the conclusion of the session coffee and doughnuts were served.

It was announced that the PTA membership drive will be the week of Oct. 5 to 9. Fliers explaining how to become PTA members will be sent home with the children.

Gifts to the school from the association were displayed. They included a long mirror for the teachers' room, two radios and a phonograph.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PARLEY SLATED FOR SATURDAY

79th Mennonite Meeting Will Be Held Near Quakertown

The 79th Sunday school convention of the Eastern District Mennonite conference will be held in the East Swamp Mennonite church, near Quakertown, Saturday.

During the afternoon session, there will be special music by the Hereford Mennonite church choir of Bally.

The convention theme is "Go Forward for God" with Christian Hunsicker, president of the Sunday school union, presiding over the sessions.

The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 o'clock. The program is as follows: song service by the Rev. A. H. Schultz, East Swamp; devotional service by the German-town Sunday school; welcoming remarks by Howard Landis, East Swamp; business session, announcements and offering to be followed by the Hereford Mennonite church choir.

A synopsis of the theme by the Rev. Robert Landis, Springfield Sunday school; group conferences, six years and under, Mrs. Erwin Miller Jr., Springfield; seven to 12 years of age, Mrs. Norman Berkey, Hereford; 13 to 17 by David Hillegass, Bethany Sunday school; 18 to 25 years by John E. Pretz, Lansdale; and 26 and up by the Rev. T. Robert Brewer, Germantown Sunday school.

The evening session will begin at 7:30 o'clock with song service by the Rev. Wilmer Denlinger, Bethany; devotional service by the Denver Sunday school; special music by Jean Matthews of Second Mennonite church, Philadelphia; report of resolution committee, announcements and offering, offertory, on Solovox by William Mease, Springfield.

The installation of new officers will precede special music by Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Hewitt, Schwenksville, and the convention message by the Rev. Edwin Deibler of the Philadelphia Bible institute will follow. A hymn, prayer and benediction will bring the convention to a close.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Robert Coleman, Housatonic, Mass., and Mrs. Dorothy Kemper, Los Angeles, Calif., spent several days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ray Ritter, 137 North Walnut street, Boyertown. The guests are relatives of the Ritters.

Court Martial of Area Man Begun After Plea for Postponement Denied

Court martial of a Pottstown area man accused of disobeying orders to move his family out of Army quarters in New York began yesterday after his attorney's plea for a postponement was denied.

Lt. Norman Ackerman, 28, of Seven Stars, southwest of Spring City, stood trial in Ft. Meade, Md. He claims that the orders were improper, because of his wife's illness his family shouldn't have been told to move from Ft. Jay, N. Y., when he was transferred to Valley Forge Army hospital, near Phoenixville.

His civilian attorney, Frank Weisgall, Baltimore, Md., asked for the postponement in an out-of-court session yesterday morning in which only he, the Army's prosecuting attorney and the law officer of the Court took part.

The law officer, Lt. Col. L. A. Arn, denied this plea.

In the afternoon, Col. William Nutter, deputy chief of staff, First Army headquarters, Governor's island, N. Y., testified through a written deposition that he'd instructed the deputy post commander at Ft. Jay to have Lt. Ackerman and his family vacate quarters.

The time of the family's vacating was left to the discretion of the deputy post commander, Col. C. G. Blakeney.

Colonel Blakeney, the first witness, said he issued a formal military order to Lt. Ackerman to vacate by noon of the past April 3.

HE TESTIFIED that he had talked to Ackerman about the matter first. He indicated that he felt Lt. Ackerman's attitude left him only one thing to do—issue the order.

The Court adjourned, with the colonel's cross-examination scheduled to begin when it reconvenes.

Lt. Ackerman has moved to Seven Stars himself but left his family in Ft. Jay. In addition to his wife, he has three children, including twins.

How Mercury's Soaring Sales can mean "Money in the Bank" for You!

1 YOU PAY LESS NOW!

Our higher volume lets us operate at a lower profit per deal. You get a far bigger allowance for your present car.

2 YOU GET BACK MORE LATER!

Popularity boosts future trade-in value. Even now, Mercury returns more of the original price than any other car in its class.

Mercury dealers, on an average, now sell more cars per dealer than any of their competition. We are, therefore, in a better position to give you a bigger allowance for your present car.

And Mercury's popularity tends to boost trade-in value even higher. A Mercury's true cost (original price minus future resale value) is now lower than any other car in its field.

So why not start saving—and enjoying the extra value that Mercury offers: like years-ahead styling, proven V-8 performance and economy. Cash in on this opportunity now!

150 TAXPAYERS GATHER TO HEAR ZONING BILL

Proposal Is Product Of Many Months' Work

BIRCHRUNVILLE—Mrs. W. R. Schwab, corr. Phone Chester Springs 3636, Lile McDonald, del. Phone Eagle 8-3219.

Almost 150 property owners gathered in St. Matthews school to hear a proposed zoning ordinance drawn up for consideration by the West Vincent Taxpayers association.

The ordinance, drawn up to serve as a pilot for the board of supervisors, is the product of many months work by a committee of the association, in accordance with State regulations, and with special regard to health and safety needs.

Two types of residential zones are provided, one with a minimum of 1/2 acre, in existing more closely settled sections, and another of 1 1/2 acres, tentatively located in Indian Hollow. In neither of these sections would livestock raising be permitted, except when already existing on properties located in these areas when the ordinance goes into effect.

A commercial area, with a minimum property size of 1/2 acre, is provided around Ludwigs Corner. Industrial areas would be provided if the business conformed to other sections of the code, but are not specifically designated since terrain and transportation would be deciding factors for any industry desiring to locate in the township.

Any area to be farmed should have a minimum of 2 acres. Buildings in any zone would be 75 feet from the front of the property, except for the 3/4 acre properties, where the minimum distance would be 50 feet. Buildings would be a minimum of 35 feet from all other existing property lines.

ENFORCEMENT would be in charge of an official appointed by the board of supervisors as provided by State law. This officer would be in charge of giving permits, seeing that they would conform with the building code and would have to render a decision on any application for a permit within ten days. A board of adjustment, consisting of three members also appointed by the supervisors would render decisions on appeals. Amendments could be made by the supervisors following a public hearing on the proposed changes.

Mitchell J. Hunt, of the Pennsylvania Economy League, explained briefly what had happened in the way of zoning in other areas of Chester county.

After a question and answer period, the group asked that copies of the proposed ordinance be prepared for distribution to anyone wishing to study it further. They also decided to ask the supervisors to appoint a zoning commission to look into the subject and hold public hearings as provided by law, using the association's ordinance as a basis for inquiry.

A motion was made to look into discrepancies in the tax list and make a report at the next meeting.

Trojans Prepare for Spartans; Meyers Says Defense Lags

After moving all around the Penn. backfield, STAN CHAPLIN seems to be set at fullback. He is now rated right behind JOE VARATIS, after standing out in a long offensive drill on Monday. Looks like Stan and SAM GREEN, former Pottstown High teammates, will be banging heads when Penn plays Penn State Saturday, Oct. 3 at Franklin field in Philadelphia. BOB SUTTON, star guard for the Trojans the past several seasons, was at State College recently to watch the Nittany Lions practice, and reported that Green is still a defensive standout. Sam is still fighting it out with Keith Horn, and Pete Shoderbeck for a starting guard berth. Sutton is now at George Washington university and will play Freshman ball. Also at GW, CARL BODOLUS is being boomed for All-Southern conference guard in this his Senior year. The sports scribes in the Washington, D. C. area make a big play of Carl's scholastic standing as an A student.

A teammate of Bodolus at PHS was JOHN NYCUM who will play guard this year at Franklin and Marshall. Last year as a Junior, NYCUM broke his leg early in the season. Joining him at FAM will be BILL SANDOE who was undecided about trying out for Freshman football.

DICK POWELL, former Trojan quarterback is out of the Merchant Marines and attending Perkiomen Prep. Maybe he'll be playing for the prepsters on Saturday when they face Hill school here.

One player who should improve with age is WALT AXSMITH who is attending Stevens Trade school. As a 16-year-old he weighed 240 at Pottstown High the past season. When he grows strong enough to support that weight he may become a terror.

Two ex-Norco players, BILL JONES and GARY BUCKWALTER are on the University of Delaware squad. Jones reported as a back after previous experience at end, and Buckwaller is a tackle.

BOBBY SHANTZ is slated to test his ailing arm against the Yankees today. A late season victory over the champs would certainly move the defending MVP of the American league back into the limelight.

When JOE GIARDELLO boxes JOHNNY SEXTON in Philadelphia next Tuesday night, Phoenixville's JOE ROWAN will meet DON ALVA in one of the six-round preliminaries. The Phoenix light heavy is touted as a real comer.

MIKE KRICKZY has returned from his Summer in the South and his first season in organized ball was a successful one. Hurling for Brunswick, the Pittsburgh Pirates farm team in the Georgia-Florida league, Mike won six and lost two during the regular season as his club finished in second place.

In the playoffs, Krickzy defeated Tifton, 13-4, to give Brunswick a place in the finals. His earned run average of 2.2 was third best on the team. He was really hard pressed to win on several occasions because although he allowed on 27 earned runs to score, misuses by his mates allowed an addition 37 runs to score off his deliveries. Mike's fast ball and side arm curve were his best pitches. Unlike in high school where he never had trouble controlling his regular curve, he pressed too hard and tried to break it off to sharply and eventually lost confidence in it after throwing too many in the dirt.

Next season he reports to Brunswick again with all the other minor league players owned by the Pirates. His next assignment will be decided by what he shows in Spring training.

Fair Weather For Title Fight

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—The US weather bureau said today that the general outlook for Thursday night's big fight is for "fair weather" and "somewhat warmer."

The bureau said the temperature early that evening would be about 65 degrees and cooling off somewhat later.

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano defends his title Thursday night against Roland La Starza at the Polo Grounds.

Alley Beds Certified

There were a total of 56,928 alley beds certified in 6657 establishments by the American Bowling Congress during the 1952-53 season which ended July 31.

With only two days to try and correct the flaws in the Pottstown High defense, Coach Heeb Meyers is still not satisfied with the Trojans' stymie work.

His boys will ease off from contact drills today as they prepare for tomorrow night's home opener against Upper Merion at Franklin field.

After beating Lansdale the past Friday night, 13-7, the Trojans have had only two scrimmages to get ready for Upper Merion. That kind of practice schedule gives coaches gray hair.

With his varsity on defense, Meyers used a substitute squad to run Upper Merion plays yesterday afternoon. If the Spartans do as well with their own material as the Trojans reserves did, it will be a rough night for PHS.

"Learning defense against the looping lines that you run up against these days is not easy," said Meyers last night as he explained the faults of his forward wall.

Co-Captain Joe Rettew, who saw only a few minutes of action at Lansdale, appears to be ready for heavier duty tomorrow night. He was hitting the sled with his tender shoulder and reported it felt okay. He will return as an offensive

1ST THURSDAY NIGHT GAME

The first Thursday night game in Pottstown High's history will be played tomorrow night when the Trojans host the Upper Merion Spartans at 8 o'clock at Franklin field.

A similar Thursday night attraction was scheduled between the same two teams the past year but threatening weather forced athletic director Ed Good to postpone the game.

These Thursday dates were arranged to give storekeepers and shoppers a chance to see the Trojans in action, something many could not do on Friday nights.

PHS will play another Thursday night game at Franklin field next week against Ridley Township, and the following week the Trojans will be at Norristown for a Thursday evening tilt.

EVERYBODY WILLING TO MANAGE REDLEGS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22 (AP)—A lot of major leaguers and ex-major leaguers have indicated they'd like to have the job of managing the Cincinnati Redlegs—but they're not the only ones.

Even general manager Gabe Paul, beset with the woes of trying to pick the best man available to succeed the dismissed Rogers Hornsby, had to laugh as he showed some of the applications he has received.

One came from a man in Brooklyn who said he had "the personality that people like." "I never had anything to do with baseball except as a gate-man for tickets," his letter said.

"Try me for a year. What can you lose? He added as he expressed belief "the public may get a kick out of it."

To that Gabe remarked, "I'd probably get a kick out of it, too—right out the window."

Then there was a letter from a man in Reading, who said he'd want a "free hand" but that Paul could pay him "what you think I'm worth." That

League Favors Shift

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—A major league baseball executive predicted today that the St. Louis Browns' franchise would be transferred to either Toronto or Montreal within the next few weeks.

The baseball official, who asked not to be identified, told the Associated Press he "understood" the American league owners favored the Browns' shift to either of the two Canadian cities over Baltimore. All three cities are currently members of the International league.

A meeting to discuss the Brownie situation is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 27, in New York. A four-man committee met in Chicago recently with American league president Will Harridge and Bill Veeck, president of the Browns, and announced it would recommend that Browns' franchise be moved out of St. Louis.

While it did not name a future home for the Browns, it generally was believed Veeck was headed for Baltimore. Veeck was denied permission to move his club to that city last March. He needed the support of five other clubs but received only the backing of Cleveland and Chicago.

"There are at least three clubs who definitely will vote against moving the Browns to Baltimore," the informant said. "Clark Griffith of Washington and the Macks of Philadelphia don't want Veeck in between them, under any cir-guard and back up the line on defense.

Meyers was pleased with the way Earl Hunsicker filled in for Rettew against the Huskies, and feels the Junior lineman will see plenty of service this season.

In Howie Bedell, Carl Burns, Dave Gillis, Clark Burns and Wils Bedell, the Trojans are equipped with some speedy backs. Another problem of chief concern regarding the offense, is trying to find guards who are fast enough to pull out of the line and block for the runners.

BOB SUTTON, of the '52 squad was at his best in this department as he had the speed to stay ahead of Bedell and the other ball carriers on the wide sweeps.

The Trojans also went through a lengthy passing drill yesterday as Josh Sova hit with moderate success. Mac Shirey appears to be Pottstown's best receiver and he is about ready for offensive duty, having learned his blocking assignments.

There is one phase of the game in which Meyers says the Trojans excel. The large squad has an over abundance of spirit and that alone can prove to be an important factor in giving PHS a winning team.

At almost every practice more than 50 boys report. That is an exceptional attendance and indicates that all the players feel they have a chance to advance.

Today's practice will consist of punt and kickoff returns, passing and running drills and general limbering up for the invasion of the Spartans.

Many Lettermen Return

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 22—Bernie Crimmins, the youthful professor of gridology at the University of Indiana, has a tough act to follow here — Dr. Kinsey and his sexualization production.

Bernie isn't writing a book, but he is keeping book on some 50-odd football players, hopeful that in this, his second try here, he can come up with a product which will be better than his first one.

Like so many of his fellow teachers in the Western conference, Bernie has several problems, brought on by the rule change, but accents a key one, brought on by graduation. This one is quarterback.

LOSS OF Lou D'Achille in this spot was a tough blow. While he has settled on Florian Helinski, a Junior, from Hurley, Wis., he realizes that Helinski has had little experience — in fact, he played the spot in only 19 plays last year. "Helinski is coming along," says Bernie, who gives you a straight forward diagnosis of his team. "He doesn't have too much speed but I'd say he has one edge on D'Achille and that is Florian is a niftier runner."

Helinski also is the team's punter and that works out fine. Rated No. 2 at the key quarterback slot is Dom Dominic, another Junior from Latrobe, Pa.

Despite the loss of a veteran signal-caller and also the loss of one of the loop's top fullbacks, Gene Gedman, also by graduation, Bernie feels that his running game this year will be good.

"I'd say," he said, "that our running game has improved over last Spring. Our passing drills and our scrimmage sessions have been better."

INDIANA, which had a 2-7 record last year in Crimmins' first as head coach (and not too much was expected of him either), will have six men playing first string who played only offense last year.

There is lettermen talent available at every spot, however, except right guard, and Bernie is not too worried here for he has two capable men in Ed Slozky, 188-pound Junior from California, Pa., and Ted Karras, a 200-pound soph from Gary, Ind., waging a close fight for the spot.

The Hoosiers, Bernie says, probably will be stronger right through the middle, which includes the guards and the center spot.

At the other guard he has Tom Dailey, a letterman from New Castle and Lou Kollias, a 200-pound Soph from Elizabeth, Pa., with letterman Dick Barnhart also available.

He is solid at center with Charlie Razmic, a mainstay last year and Wayne Ethridge, a Soph from Riverdale, Ill., who is highly considered and may be the star of the new cast.

He also has Jim Vesel, a defensive letterman who was a line-backer, available for duty here.

THE HOOSIERS suffered a blow at end when Bob Inserra, out last year but a defensive end in 1950-51, came down with a kidney ailment and was lost to the team. The squad thought so much of Bob that he had been elected captain.

With Inserra out, John Zuger, offensive regular last year and Pat Fellingner, a big soph from Altoona, are fighting it out for left end. Crimmins says that Fellingner is coming along fine, has good speed and can catch the ball well.

At the other end is veteran material in Nate Borden, offensive starter last year, and Paul Kobulnick, a defensive standout for two seasons. Still another letterman is available here—Ken Schermer.

Wildcats, Cols Play at Norco Friday

The tossup sign is out regarding Friday night's game at North Coventry High when the Wildcats open their season against Collegeville.

A little bit is known about the Norco, but at Norco, Coach Al Brown will field a team that is full of question marks.

"We have plenty of size but whether they can perform the way we want remains to be seen," Brown reports. He feels that his club is not quite ready to do its best but the schedule won't wait.

Down the road apiece, the Cols have been hard at work trying to regroup their defensive force. It was dented and bruised in the 22-0 loss at Lower Moreland in the opener.

Coach Bob Hackman plans to make a few defensive replacements to bolster his forward wall.

The size Brown was referring to is centered around 200-pound Larry McAfee and 185-pound Jim Olexa. McAfee is one of the few seasoned veterans in the Wildcat line. He will be an offensive tackle and move out to the end on defense.

By using Olexa on the other defensive terminal, Brown will try to bust up the Collegeville blocking that is sure to precede such speedy runners as Jerry Hefelinger, Bill Yeagle, Tom Noland and Fran McManus.

OLEXA IS NEW to the grid sport but has learned fast. He knows how to use his 6-2 frame to go up after passes and next to Norco Domin is probably the second best on the squad in this department.

Norco's other offensive end will be Chuck Foreman, although when Dave Miller regains his eligibility, it will be a two-man fight for the job. Bob Hewitt is McAfee's running mate at tackle and Art Hughes and Don Lash have the inside track on the guard positions. Sturdy John Mullen holds down the center post.

Two probably defensive moves

Final Running Of Destruction Derby, Friday

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22—The "Destruction Derby" scheduled for Friday night's stock car card in Municipal stadium promises to be a rough and ready affair, according to George Marshman, guiding light of the downtown track.

"This being the last running of the event," Marshman stated, "the boys have no reason to hold back. They won't get to use their cars anymore this season, so they'll really be out there banging away. While they'll all be out to win, I feel that a lot of them would just as well see their cars banged up to a point where they will not have to take them home, but can dispose of them immediately."

"While we have not as yet been able to work out a point system for scoring the Destruction Derby," he continued, "most of the drivers feel this is the final pay-off and are out to win this particular event, because it will have season championship connotations."

Also carded for the Friday meeting is the big '50-lap added purse, added points season championship for stock cars, and a fast field is awaiting starter Johnny Favinger's green flag. Other of the matters on hand will be the second "Powder Puff Derby" with award to the winner made by Jeanna Bassett, The Page One Queen, a novice event for unprofessional drivers and an exhibition by a prize winning Mummer's String Band.

Trojans Prepare for Spartans; Meyers Says Defense Lags

SPORTS HOT SHOTS

After moving all around the Penn backfield, STAN CHAPLIN seems to be set at fullback. He is now rated right behind JOE VARITIS after standing out in a long offensive drill on Monday. . . . Looks like Stan and SAM GREEN, former Pottstown High teammates, will be hanging heads when Penn plays Penn State Saturday, Oct. 3 at Franklin field in Philadelphia. . . . BOB SUTTON, star guard for the Trojans the past several seasons, was at State College recently to watch the Nittany Lions practice and reported that Green is still a defensive standout. . . . Sam is still fighting it out with Keith Horn and Pete Shoderbeck for a starting guard berth. . . . Sutton is now at George Washington university and will play Freshman ball. . . . Also at GW, CARL BODOLUS is being boomed for All-Southern conference guard in this his Senior year. . . . The sports scribes in the Washington, D.C. area make a big play of Carl's scholastic standing as an A student. . . .

A teammate of Bodolus at PHS was JOHN NYCUUM who will play guard this year at Franklin and Marshall. . . . Last year as a Junior, Nycuum broke his leg early in the season. . . . Joining him at F&M will be BILL SANDOE who was undecided about trying out for Freshman football. . . .

DICK POWELL, former Trojan quarterback is out of the Merchant Marines and attending Perkiomen Prep. . . . Maybe he'll be playing for the prepsters on Saturday when they face Hill school here. . . . One player who should improve with age is WALT AXSMITH who is attending Stevens Trade school. . . . As a 16-year-old he weighed 240 at Pottstown High the past season. . . . When he grows strong enough to support that weight he may become a terror. . . .

TWO ex-Norco players, BILL JONES and GARY BUCKWALTER are on the University of Delaware squad. . . . Jones reported as a back after previous experience at end, and Buckwalter is a tackle. . . .

ROBBY SHANTZ is slated to test his ailing arm against the Yankees today. . . . A late season victory over the champs would certainly move the defending MVP of the American league back into the limelight. . . . When JOE GIARDELLO boxes JOHNNY SAXTON in Philadelphia next Tuesday night, PHOENIXIAN's JOE ROWAN will meet DON ALVA in one of the six round preliminaries. . . . The Phoenix light heavy is touted as a real comer. . . .

MIKE KRICKZY has returned from his Summer in the South and his first season in organized ball was a successful one. . . . Hurling for Brunswick, the Pittsburgh Pirates farm team in the Georgia-Florida league, Mike won six and lost two during the regular season as his club finished in second place. . . . In the playoffs, Krickzy defeated Tifton, 13-4, to give Brunswick a place in the finals. . . . His earned run average of 2.2 was third best on the team. . . . He was really hard pressed to win on several occasions because although he allowed on 27 earned runs to score, misuses by his mates allowed an addition 37 runs to score off his deliveries. . . . Mike's fast ball and side arm curve were his best pitches. . . . Unlike in high school where he never had trouble controlling his regular curve, he pressed too hard and tried to break it off to sharply and eventually lost confidence in it after throwing too many in the dirt. . . . Next season he reports to Brunswick again with all the other minor league players owned by the Pirates. . . . His next assignment will be decided by what he shows in Spring training.

Fair Weather For Title Fight NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—The US weather bureau said today that the general outlook for Thursday night's big fight is for "fair weather" and "somewhat warmer."

The bureau said the temperature early that evening would be about 65 degrees and cooling off somewhat later.

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano defends his title Thursday night against Roland La Starza at the Polo Grounds.

With only two days to try and correct the flaws in the Pottstown High defense, Coach Heeb Meyers is still not satisfied with the Trojans' stymie work.

His boys will ease off from contact drills today as they prepare for tomorrow night's home opener against Upper Merion at Franklin field.

After beating Lansdale the past Friday night, 13-7, the Trojans have had only two scrimmages to get ready for Upper Merion. That kind of practice schedule gives coaches gray hair.

With his varsity on defense, Meyers used a substitute squad to run Upper Merion plays yesterday afternoon. If the Spartans do as well with their own material as the Trojans reserves did, it will be a rough night for PHS.

"Learning defense against the looping lines that you run up against these days is not easy," said Meyers last night as he explained the faults of his forward wall.

Co-Captain Joe Rettew, who saw only a few minutes of action at Lansdale, appears to be ready for heavier duty tomorrow night. He was hitting the sled with his tender shoulder and reported it felt okay. He will return as an offensive guard and back up the line on defense.

Meyers was pleased with the way Earl Hunsicker filled in for Rettew against the Huskies, and feels the Junior lineman will see plenty of service this season.

In Howie Bedell, Carl Burns, Dave Gillis, Clark Burns and Wils Bedell, the Trojans are equipped with some speedy backs. Another problem of chief concern regarding the offense, is trying to find guards who are fast enough to pull out of the line and block for the runners.

BOB SUTTON, of the '52 squad was at his best in this department as he had the speed to stay ahead of Bedell and the other ball carriers on the wide sweeps.

The Trojans also went through a lengthy passing drill yesterday as Josh Sova hit with moderate success. Mac Shirey appears to be Pottstown's best receiver and he is about ready for offensive duty, having learned his blocking assignments.

There is one phase of the game in which Meyers says the Trojans excel. The large squad has an over abundance of spirit and that alone can prove to be an important factor in giving PHS a winning team.

At almost every practice more than 50 boys report. That is an exceptional attendance and indicates that all the players feel they have a chance to advance.

Today's practice will consist of punt and kickoff returns, passing and running drills and general limbering up for the invasion of the Spartans.

EVERYBODY WILLING TO MANAGE REDLEGS CINCINNATI, Sept. 22 (AP)—A lot of major leaguers and ex-major leaguers have indicated they'd like to have the job of managing the Cincinnati Redlegs—but they're not the only ones.

Even general manager Gabe Paul, beset with the woes of trying to pick the best man available to succeed the dismissed Rogers Hornsby, had to laugh as he showed some of the applications he has received.

One came from a man in Brooklyn who said he had "the personality that people like."

"I never had anything to do with baseball except as a gate-man for tickets," his letter said.

"Try me for a year. What can you lose? He added as he expressed belief "the public may get a kick out of it."

To that Gabe remarked, "I'd probably get a kick out of it, too—right out the window."

Then there was a letter from a man in Reading, who said he'd want a "free hand" but that Paul could pay him "what you think I'm worth." That fellow also disclosed the "system" he'd use.

"My system," he wrote, "would be similar to Casey Stengel. That is, in part: have a great relief hurler like Lefty Grove or some such fellow. And a great pinch hitter like Johnny Mize. If a manager has the boys, he can do wonders."

To that Paul remarked wryly, "this fellow has possibilities—if he can just come up with another Grove and Mize."

Still another letter came from a man in Chicago who suggested Gabe try "something new"—"hire yourself an outsider that no one knows, not even the ball players."

That fellow said he was sure he could produce and added, "you have gone all these years with a second division club so what could you lose one more year?"

That applicant didn't sign his name but he told Gabe to give a story—apparently about him being hired—to Chicago newspapers and when he saw it in the paper he'd get in touch with the Redleg front office.

League Favors Shift Latest Rumor Has Browns Moving to Toronto or Montreal NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—A major league baseball executive predicted today that the St. Louis Browns' franchise would be transferred to either Toronto or Montreal within the next few weeks.

The baseball official, who asked not to be identified, told the Associated Press he "understood" the American league owners favored the Browns' shift to either of the two Canadian cities over Baltimore.

All three cities are currently members of the International league.

A meeting to discuss the Browns' situation is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 27, in New York. A four-man committee met in Chicago recently with American league president Will Harridge and Bill Veeck, president of the Browns, and announced it would recommend that Browns' franchise be moved out of St. Louis.

While it did not name a future home for the Browns, it was believed Veeck was headed for Baltimore. Veeck was denied permission to move his club to that city last March. He needed the support of five other clubs but received only the backing of Cleveland and Chicago.

"There are at least three clubs who definitely will vote against moving the Browns to Baltimore," the informant said. "Clark Griffith of Washington and the Macks of Philadelphia don't want Veeck in between them, under any circumstances. Don't expect the Yankees to vote for Baltimore, either. They've been trying to peddle the Kansas City franchise off to Veeck, who wants no part of it."

"The way I understand it, the Philadelphia Athletics are eyeing Baltimore themselves for a possible move there in the future."

"It's my guess the Browns will be in Toronto next year. I'd say it is a 60-40 proposition right now between Toronto and Montreal, with the odds favoring Toronto. I understand Veeck and Jack Cook of Toronto have some kind of an agreement between them."

The informant scoffed at any idea that the Browns, or any other major league franchise, would be shifted to the Pacific Coast this Winter.

"I don't really think anything will be done about the Coast situa-

Many Lettermen Return Crimmins Hopeful of Better Season in 2d Year at Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 22—Bernie Crimmins, the youthful professor of gridology at the University of Indiana, has a tough act to follow here — Dr. Kinsey and his sexualization production.

Bernie isn't writing a book, but he is keeping book on some 50-odd football players, hopeful that in this, his second try here, he can come up with a product which will be better than his first one.

Like so many of his fellow teachers in the Western conference, Bernie has several problems, brought on by the rule change, but accents a key one, brought on by graduation. This one is quarterback.

LOSS OF Lou D'Achille in this spot was a tough blow. While he has settled on Florian Helinski, a Junior, from Hurley, Wis., he realizes that Helinski has had little experience — in fact, he played the spot in only 19 plays last year. "Helinski is coming along," says Bernie, who gives you a straight-forward diagnosis of his team. "He doesn't have too much speed but I'd say he has one edge on D'Achille and that is Florian is a niftier runner."

Helinski also is the team's punter and that works out fine. Rated No. 2 at the key quarterback slot is Dom Dominic, another Junior from Latrobe, Pa.

Despite the loss of a veteran signal-caller and also the loss of one of the loop's top fullbacks, Gene Gedman, also by graduation, Bernie feels that his running game this year will be good.

"I'd say," he said, "that our running game has improved over last Spring. Our passing drills and our scrimmage sessions have been better."

INDIANA, which had a 2-7 record last year in Crimmins' first as head coach (and not too much was expected of him either), will have six men playing first string who played only offense last year. There is lettermen talent available at every spot, however, except right guard, and Bernie is not too worried here for he has two capable men in Ed Slovis, 188-pound Junior from California, Pa., and Ted Karras, a 200-pound soph from Gary, Ind., waging a close fight for the spot.

The Hoosiers, Bernie says, probably will be stronger right through the middle, which includes the guards and the center spot.

At the other guard he has Tom Dailey, a letterman from New Castle and Lou Kollias, a 200-pound Soph from Elizabeth, Pa., with letterman Dick Barnhart also available.

He is solid at center with Charlie Razmic, a mainstay last year and Wayne Ethridge, a Soph from Riverdale, Ill., who is highly considered and may be the star of the new cast.

He also has Jim Vesel, a defensive letterman who was a line-backer, available for duty here.

THE HOOSIERS suffered a blow at end when Bob Inserra, out last year but a defensive end in 1950-51, came down with a kidney ailment and was lost to the team. The squad thought so much of Bob that he had been elected captain.

With Inserra out, John Zuger, offensive regular last year and Pat Fellinger, a big soph from Altoona, are fighting it out for left end. Crimmins says that Fellinger is coming along fine, has good speed and can catch the ball well.

At the other end is veteran material in Nate Borden, offensive starter last year, and Paul Kobulnicki, a defensive standout for two seasons. Still another letterman is available here—Ken Schermer.

THE TACKLE situation looks okay with veteran material at both sides although Bill Syvanteck, a two-letterman, is out for the season with a shoulder separation.

Even Match Predicted Wildcats, Cols Play at Norco Friday

The tossup sign is out regarding Friday night's game at North Coventry High when the Wildcats open their season against Collegeville.

A little bit is known about the Colonels, but at Norco, Coach Al Brown will field a team that is full of question marks.

"We have plenty of size but whether they can perform the way we want remains to be seen," Brown reports. He feels that his club is not quite ready to do its best but the schedule won't wait.

Down the road apiece, the Cols have been hard at work trying to regroup their defensive force. It was dented and bruised in the 22-0 loss at Lower Moreland in the opener. Coach Bob Hackman plans to make a few defensive replacements to bolster his forward wall.

The size Brown was referring to is centered around 200-pound Larry McAfee and 185-pound Jim Oleka. McAfee is one of the few seasoned veterans in the Wildcat line. He will be an offensive tackle and move out to the end on defense.

By using Oleka on the other defensive terminal, Brown will try to bust up the Collegeville blocking that is sure to precede such speedy runners as Jerry Hefelfinger, Bill Yeagle, Tom Noland and Fran McManus.

OLEKA IS NEW to the grid sport but has learned fast. He knows how to use its 6-2 frame to go up after passes and next to Ron Domin is probably the second best on the squad in this department.

Norco's other offensive end will be Chuck Foreman, although when Dave Miller regains his eligibility, it will be a two-man fight for the job. Bob Hewitt is McAfee's running mate at tackle and Art Hughes and Don Lash have the inside track on the guard positions. Sturdy John Mullen holds down the center post.

Two probably defensive moves

Final Running Of Destruction Derby, Friday PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22—The "Destruction Derby" scheduled for Friday night's stock car card in Municipal stadium promises to be a rough and ready affair, according to George Marshman, guiding light of the downtown track.

"This being the last running of the event," Marshman stated, "the boys have no reason to hold back. They won't get to use their cars anymore this season, so they'll really be out there banging away. While they'll all be out to win, I feel that a lot of them would just as well see their cars banged up to a point where they will not have to take them home, but can dispose of them immediately."

"While we have not as yet been able to work out a point system for scoring the Destruction Derby," he continued, "most of the drivers feel this is the final pay-off and are out to win this particular event, because it will have season championship connotations."

Also carded for the Friday meeting is the big 50-lap added purse, added points season championship for stock cars, and a fast field is awaiting starter Johnny Favinger's green flag. Other of the matters on hand will be the second "Powder Puff Derby" by award to the winner made by Jo-anna Bassetti, The Page One Queen, a novice event for unprofessional drivers and an exhibition by Washington Redskins a top Green Bay draft choice next season.

Band.

Yanks Spank A's, 7-2

Cards, Braves Split; Mathews Belts 47th, Musial Has 5 Hits

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The second-place Milwaukee Braves and St. Louis Cardinals split a two-night doubleheader tonight as the Braves took the opener 4-3 on homers by Joe Adcock and Eddie Mathews but dropped the nightcap 10-7 as the Redbirds took advantage of four Milwaukee errors.

Mathews, whose first game homer was his 47th of the year, made two errors in each game.

The Cardinals scored five runs in the sixth and three in the seventh with the help of the Braves' miscues. Harry Elliott and Stan Musial doubled in the sixth and Red Schoendienst smashed a double in the seventh. There were two errors in each game.

RUN, BUMS, RUN! By Alan Mauer

CHARLEY DRESSEN, BROOKLYN BOSS, WHO'D LIKE TO HAVE A LOT OF COMPANY WHILE HE PERFORMS HIS 3RD BASE COACHING CHORES IN THE WORLD SERIES.

HE MAY GET HIS WISH, TOO, SINCE MORE DOGERS PASSED 3RD THIS YEAR THAN EVER BEFORE. IT TOOK ONLY 137 GAMES TO TOP THE TEAM'S SEASON HIGH IN RUNS, 879, WHICH HAD BEEN SET IN 1956 GAMES.

DODGERS TOP PIRATES, 5-4, IN LAST HOME GAME

BROOKLYN, Sept. 22 (AP)—The record ever made in the National League.

The triumph gave the Dodgers a mark of 60 victories and 17 defeats at Ebbets Field, matching the all-time record set by the champion St. Louis Cardinals in 1942.

Junior Gilliam, batting for Johnny Podres, provided the winning run when, with the score tied 4-4 in the eighth inning, he hit a double, went to third on a double steal and came home on a wild throw.

Vic Janowicz, Pittsburgh catcher, threw wild to third when Gilliam and George Shuba, who had walked, pulled off the double steal.

Carl Erskine, Brooklyn's choice to open the World Series against the New York Yankees, pitched the first three innings, before being relieved by Podres, who was credited with the win. The loser was Cal Hogue, who went all the way, giving up seven hits, including a first-inning homer by Shuba.

Frank Thomas and Preston Ward hit two-run homers for the Bucs.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Satchel Paige celebrated his 46th birthday—that's according to the record books—by winning his third game of the season tonight as the St. Louis Browns whipped the Detroit Tigers 7-3.

Paige left in the eighth inning when the Tigers flurried for two runs.

Until then, old Satchel was pitching one of the best games of his major league life—a one-hitter for seven innings.

He gave up a home run to Fred Hatfield in the first inning and then stopped the Tigers until the eighth.

Chicago scored once in the third and sewed up the second game in the fifth when Bill Serena clouted a three-run homer. Paul Minner was the winner and Harry Perkowski the loser.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 (AP)—Splitting a two-night doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs here tonight, the Cincinnati Redlegs maintained their 2½-game lead over the Windy City crew that had hopes of supplanting them in sixth place. The Redlegs took the first 1-0 and the Cubs came back 4-1 in the nightcap.

Rookie left-hander Fred Baczewski hurled his first major league shutout in the opener, limiting his former Cub teammates to six hits which were nullified by four Redleg double plays. Cincinnati's winning tally came in the third inning when Bobby Adams tripled after Roy McMillan singled. Bubba Church, the loser, yielded only six hits before being taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Phils Trip Giants Behind Simmons

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22 (AP)—Earl Torgeson's double. Del Ennis, whose first-inning single batted in one run, banged home another in the second with another single. Smoky Burgess' groundout with the bases loaded brought in a second tally in the same inning.

Daryl Spencer doubled home the other two New York runs in the fourth after Irvin walked and Don Mueller singled.

A walk to Kazanski and Torgeson's double scored another Philadelphia run in the sixth and the Phils added two clinchers in the eighth. Simmons tripled, Kazanski singled him in. Spencer's bad throw on Richie Ashburn's groundout sent Kazanski to third and Torgeson's groundout brought him home.

The Phils scored four in the first on a five-hit attack, topped by Kazanski's leadoff triple and home.

The Giants' first run stemmed from an error. Ted Kazanski booted Alvin Dark's grounder. Dark advanced on a walk and stole the third, then scored on Monte Irvin's groundout.

Rocky, Roland Finish Training

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Roland LaStarza breezed through final training sessions today with the Brockton Blockbuster a solid 4 to 1 favorite to retain his title Thursday night at the Polo Grounds.

Despite the recent upsets of Ezzard Charles and Kid Gavilan's close call with Carmen Basilio, few of the experts gave the 26-year-old New Yorker much of a chance to escape the numbing punches of the swarthy champion.

According to odds quoted by one source, it was 12 to 5 that LaStarza would not go the 15 rounds and even money he wouldn't survive eight. They made it 8 to 1 that Marciano would not be knocked out.

International Boxing Club officials buzzed with action and the halls were jammed with newsmen, fight managers and handlers. Few of the managers thought LaStarza would win although some of them predicted a tougher fight than generally expected.

THE GUM, 1

Cools mouth — freshens taste.
Swell to chew — anytime!

HOMeward BOUND—The final leg of the long journey home began at night for the Pottstown area's returned prisoners of war. Here they board United Airlines DC 6 flagship with their families after midnight at San Francisco airport.

RELAXING—Smiles of pleasant anticipation light up the faces of Capt. and Mrs. Joseph L. O'Connor as they settle down in the huge plane for the flight back home. Memories of hard prison benches didn't linger quite so vividly in these surroundings. "It's nice to feel civilized again," the captain seems to be thinking. Mrs. O'Connor leans through magazine, pointing out to her husband what's new since he went away.

ALMOST HOME now, returned prisoners and families hurry down plane ramp as they land at Philadelphia International airport. Captain O'Connor is in middle of picture, behind his mother. Following him are his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuzmich and Lt. Frank Kuzmich. From the city airport, it was only a short ride by car to the friendly, rolling hills of home. The party arrived in the Pottstown area yesterday afternoon.

HOMEWARD BOUND—The final leg of the long journey home began at night for the Pottstown area's returned prisoners of war. Here they board United airlines DC 6 flagship with their families after midnight at San Francisco airport.

RELAXING—Smiles of pleasant anticipation light up the faces of Capt. and Mrs. Joseph L. O'Connor as they settle down in the huge plane for the flight back home. Memories of hard prison benches didn't linger quite so vividly in these surroundings. "It's nice to feel civilized again," the captain seems to be thinking. Mrs. O'Connor leans through magazine, pointing out to her husband what's new since he went away.

ALMOST HOME now, returned prisoners and families hurry down plane ramp as they land at Philadelphia International airport. Captain O'Connor is in middle of picture, behind his mother. Following him are his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuzmich and Lt. Frank Kuzmich. From the city airport, it was only a short ride by car to the friendly, rolling hills of home. The party arrived in the Pottstown area yesterday afternoon.

40 Pottstown Lions See Simmons Beat Giants

Some 40 members of the Pottstown Lions club were eyewitnesses to Curt Simmons' 15th victory of the season when he bounced the New York Giants, 9-3, in Philadelphia.

The group left Pottstown at 6:30 p. m. from the Shuler House.

About three tons of bituminous coal per capita are consumed annually in the United States.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"If you like polka dots so much, dear, why don't you put me like that?"

Obituaries

GEORGE GREGORY, 86, formerly of Pottstown, died in KNOXVILLE, TENN., Monday night.

Born in Melbourne, England, he moved from Pottstown four years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. D. K. Bullens, of Pottstown, and Mrs. Arthur Green, of New Augusta, Ind.; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Four sisters also survive.

Funeral services will be held today in Knoxville. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery, Pottstown.

50 Antique Dealers Will Exhibit Wares

There will be 50 exhibitors at the Fall show of the Antique Dealers' Association of Montgomery County in Sunnybrook ballroom on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5, 6 and 7, it was announced yesterday.

On the stage will be an exhibition of quilt-making by women's organizations.

On the ballroom floor will be displays of antiques, including furniture, china, glass, lamps, prints, textiles, brass and other metal objects. All items will be for sale except those in the quilt-making exhibit.

The show will be open to visitors from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. on each of the three days. There will be an admission charge. Parking will be free. All exhibiting dealers are association members.

REDS SENTENCE 4 CHURCHMEN

Polish Military Court Jails Bishop, 3 Others

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 22 (AP)—A Polish military court today sentenced the Most Rev. Czeslaw Kaczmarek, bishop of Kielce, and three other Roman Catholic priests to prison terms ranging up to 12 years on charges of spying for the Vatican and the United States.

Sister Waleria Niklewska, a nun similarly accused by Poland's Communist government, received a five-year sentence that was immediately suspended. She was released.

All had pleaded guilty.

Bishop Kaczmarek set the keynote Monday with a statement, a part of his public confession, that he had been fighting Communism since the Russian revolution of 1918.

The bishop drew a 12-year term.

THE COURT sentenced the Rev. Jan Dailiewicz, former treasurer of the Kielce curia, to 10 years; the Rev. Josef Dabrowski, former chaplain to the bishop, to 9 years; and the Rev. Wladyslaw Widlak, a former official of the Kielce seminary, to 6 years.

(The trial, widely publicized by the Warsaw radio, followed the pattern of many others behind the Iron Curtain in which churchmen have been condemned. The Vatican denounced the case from the start. The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said it was legal blackmail. "A shameful episode aimed at bending not only physical persons, but also consciences to the will of atheistic tyranny." Most of Poland's 25 million people are Roman Catholics.)

The maximum penalty in Poland for spying is death.

In their final statements yesterday, the defendants threw themselves on the mercy of the court. Their counsel asked for leniency on the ground they had pleaded guilty.

Fred Kupski, 8 West Fifth street, for placing third in Junior high competition.

Jesse Matthews, Pine Forge, was the big winner in Senior High division. She received a $100 bond, and Georgann Jacobs, 649 Summit lane, placed second and got a $25 bond. Monica Hegedus, 326 Cherry street, was awarded a $25 bond for her third place essay.

John Shaner, business agent of Amalgamated Local 644, United Steel Workers (CIO), reported the contest theme was "accomplishments and aims of American trade unions."

He explained, "We hope to make the contest an annual event and we hope to increase its scope this year to include places like North Coventry.

Judging essays were Dr. B. W. Barkas, Philadelphia school board; Paul Chancellor, director of humanities at the Hill, and K. S. Lane, personnel director of the Jacobs Aircraft Engine company.

STOCKS FORGE AHEAD As Market Rallies

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Many stocks gained a point and some forged ahead two points or more today as one of the best rallies of the year spread through the stock market.

Every section of the list moved higher, with railroads, oils and chemicals showing the best gains. There was little evidence of profit taking and many shares closed at their best prices of the day.

Brokers were quick to attribute the sharp advance to Treasury Secretary Humphrey's assurance that income taxes will be lower and the excess profits tax will be allowed to lapse at the start of next year.

A recovery also had been expected following the recent period of tumbling share prices. However, few had expected so decisive an advance in a single day.

The sustained rise today led some quarters to predict a continuance of the rally over the next few days.

HOSPITAL WING

capable of supporting two additional floors.

Aside from letting of contracts, the directors also accepted the resignation of Ernest V. Hunter, who has been a board member for a number of years.

During his affiliation with the group, Hunter served as board president and was instrumental in establishment of the present west wing at the hospital.

Board President Charles Wylie appointed a liaison committee to meet with members of the medical staff as requested by the staff to discuss matters pertinent to their activities.

Chosen to sit in on the committee are Ralph Goettman, chairman, Harold Yocom, William O'Donnell and Wylie as ex-officio member.

UPON recommendation of the medical staff, the board approved the appointment of Dr. John A. Anthony, who is head of the anesthesiology department, from the courtesy staff to the active staff.

The appointments of Dr. Lamar Thomas Zimmerman, 762 High street; Dr. Clarence Rolland Pentz, Pottstown Star Route; Allen Yeakel, Bechtelsville, and Dr. Aureliano Rivas, 61 North Hanover street, to the medical courtesy staff, also were approved by the board.

In filing the administrator's report with the board, Pollick pointed out that for the first three months of the current fiscal year, which began June 1, there was an increase of 71 patients against the same period the past year.

The average length of patient stay was 7.3 days for the past month and the percentage of occupancy was set at 79 percent.

During the three-month period, a total of 1800 chest X-rays was taken at the hospital, Pollick said the increase was due to the large number of food handlers getting the X-rays as prescribed in a borough ordinance.

Local Group Will Attend County Nurses' Parley

A Pottstown delegation will attend the Fall meeting of the newly-organized Montgomery County Nurses' association of District 1, Pennsylvania State Nurses' association, it was announced yesterday by Leona V. Smith, local visiting nurse.

The meeting will be held in Bryn Mawr hospital Monday at 8 p. m. The meeting is open to graduate nurses living or working in the county.

Defendants Are Allowed Time to Prepare Case

Repeated objections by defense attorneys that they were being unfairly surprised led yesterday to the temporary withdrawal of the damage suit against the borough by Peter Kaufman, 70-year-old legless Pottstown man.

On the opening day of the suit Monday in Montgomery county court, Kaufman blamed his loss of legs on a fall he took onto a High street sidewalk on Oct. 14, 1951.

Through Attorney Louis Sager, he sued both the borough and John Szenirpunos, 440 High street, owner of the property in front of which the sidewalk passes.

He claimed that the fall led to the amputation of both his legs.

BOROUGH Solicitor C. Edmund Wells and Attorney L. Stanley Mauger, representing Szenirpunos, objected to this claim as far exceeding the claim made by Sager when he filed the complaint that led to the suit.

In Sager's complaint, they said, the fall is blamed only for a broken right ankle and its after-effects.

Wells and Mauger maintain the amputations were a result of Kaufman's being hit by a car several months after the fall.

They made a formal objection of "surprise," saying they were not prepared to make an adequate defense against the unexpected and more sweeping claims.

Judge E. Arnold Forrest upheld objections. As a result, Sager asked for the withdrawal of a juror, which led to a "non-suit."

This "non-suit" does not prejudice Kaufman's case but means Sager will have to file a new action.

Kaufman claims the broken ankle led to leg trouble that forced the amputations.

Wells and Mauger maintain that the broken ankle was healed before he was hit by the car, that the leg injuries caused by the car accident led to gangrene and amputation.

In the car accident, Kaufman had fractures of both legs and of the pelvis.

Telemetering instruments will be installed in borough hall to transmit a record of the water level in the tank and control the pumping equipment at the Evans street pumping station.

The two pumps at the Evans street station will be replaced by 750-gallon-per-minute pumps. Present pumps have a capacity of 500 gallons a minute.

Minor changes will be made at the Beech and Minter streets pumping station. Twelve-inch lines will run to and from the tank.

FOR THE convenience of the committee and Estrada, bids were broken into four parts: tank foundations, iron fence around the tank site, the tank and the driveway.

The only wide discrepancy in bidding was on the tank itself. On the strength of its low bid on the tank, the Chicago company got the contract.

Committee members, W. Mark Henricks, Wilbert O'Dell, Edward H. Hunnicutt, Paul I. Romig and C. Raymond Eppheimer, listened to Estrada and Borst explain features of the tank and technical details relating to construction.

They then voted to award the contract to Chicago Bridge and Iron company and Borough Manager Horace B. Goulden said he would call a meeting next week with the water and finance committees and borough solicitor to discuss financing the remaining improvements of the program.

The Chicago company built tanks at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, the Eastern State Penitentiary, Gratersford, and other sites in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Borst said in jest to E. J. Price, of the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company, "I'm sorry I don't have a cigar for a consolation prize."

MOSSADEGH REPORTED SENTENCED TO DEATH By Public Hanging

LONDON, Wednesday, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Daily Express reported today that ousted Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has been sentenced to death by public hanging.

The Express said in a dispatch from its Tehran correspondent that Mossadegh screamed oaths as the military court sentenced him Tuesday after a secret three-week trial.

The newspaper said the court found him guilty of eight charges of treason and one of mass murder. He will come before another court martial tomorrow for confirmation of the sentence, it added.

No other London newspaper carried any similar report at the time the Express appeared.

MOSSADEGH was arrested Aug. 20 after a royalist coup which brought Iran's young shah back to his capital from brief exile. Since then he has been held in jail.

The Express said: During the trial, Mossadegh signed the record of each day's proceedings as a true report of the trial.

As the trial neared an end, Col. Ghorghany, the court president, told the former premier: "If you wish, you can defend yourself for the last time before this court."

REDS SENTENCE 4 CHURCHMEN

Polish Military Court
Jails Bishop,
3 Others

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 22 (AP)—A Polish military court today sentenced the Most Rev. Czeslaw Kaczmarek, bishop of Kielce, and three other Roman Catholic priests to prison terms ranging up to 12 years on charges of spying for the Vatican and the United States.

Sister Waleria Niklewska, a nun similarly accused by Poland's Communist government, received a five-year sentence that was immediately suspended. She was released.

All had pleaded guilty. Bishop Kaczmarek set the keynote Monday with a statement, a part of his public confession, that he had been fighting Communism since the Russian revolution of 1918. The bishop drew a 12-year term.

THE COURT sentenced the Rev. Jan Dalkiewicz, former treasurer of the Kielce curia, to 10 years; the Rev. Josef Dabrowski, former chaplain to the bishop, to 9 years; and the Rev. Wladyslaw Widiak, a former official of the Kielce seminary, to 6 years.

(The trial, widely publicized by the Warsaw radio, followed the pattern of many others behind the Iron Curtain in which churchmen have been condemned. The Vatican denounced the case from the start. The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said it was legal blackmail. "A shameful episode aimed at bending not only physical persons, but also consciences to the will of atheistic tyranny." Most of Poland's 25 million people are Roman Catholics.)

The maximum penalty in Poland for spying is death. In their final statements yesterday, the defendants threw themselves on the mercy of the court. Their counsel asked for leniency on the ground they had pleaded guilty.

John Shaner, business agent of Amalgamated Local 644, United Steel Workers (CIO), reported the contest theme was "accomplishments and aims of American trade unions."

He explained, "We hope to make the contest an annual event and we hope to increase its scope this year to include places like North Coventry."

Stocks Forge Ahead As Market Rallies

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Many stocks gained a point and some forged ahead two points or more today as one of the best rallies of the year spread through the stock market.

Every section of the list moved higher, with railroads, oils and chemicals showing the best gains. There was little evidence of profit taking and many shares closed at their best prices of the day.

Brokers were quick to attribute the sharp advance to Treasury Secretary Humphrey's assurance that income taxes will be lower and the excess profits tax will be allowed to lapse at the start of next year.

A recovery also had been expected following the recent period of tumbling share prices. However, few had expected so decisive an advance in a single day. The sustained rise today led some quarters to predict a continuation of the rally over the next few days.

capable of supporting two additional floors.

Aside from letting of contracts, the directors also accepted the resignation of Ernest V. Hunter, who has been a board member for a number of years.

During his affiliation with the group, Hunter served as board president and was instrumental in establishment of the present west wing at the hospital.

Board President Charles Wylie appointed a liaison committee to meet with members of the medical staff as requested by the staff to discuss matters pertinent to their activities.

Chosen to sit in on the committee are Ralph Goettman, chairman, Harold Yocom, William O'Donnell and Wylie as ex-officio member.

UPON recommendation of the medical staff, the board approved the appointment of Dr. John A. Anthony, who is head of the anesthesiology department, from the courtesy staff to the active staff.

The appointments of Dr. Lamar Thomas Zimmerman, 762 High street; Dr. Clarence Roland Pentz, Pottstown Star Route; Allen Yeakel, Bechtelsville, and Dr. Aureliano Rivas, 61 North Hanover street, to the medical courtesy staff, also were approved by the board.

In filing the administrator's report with the board, Pollick pointed out that for the first three months of the current fiscal year, which began June 1, there was an increase of 71 patients against the same period the past year.

The average length of patient stay was 7.3 days for the past month and the percentage of occupancy was set at 79 percent.

During the three-month period, a total of 1800 chest X-rays was taken at the hospital, Pollick said the increase was due to the large number of food handlers getting the X-rays as prescribed in a borough ordinance.

Defendants Are Allowed Time to Prepare Case

Repeated objections by defense attorneys that they were being unfairly surprised led yesterday to the temporary withdrawal of the damage suit against the borough by Peter Kaufman, 70-year-old legless Pottstown man.

On the opening day of the suit Monday in Montgomery county court, Kaufman brought his loss of legs on a fall he took onto a High street sidewalk on Oct. 14, 1951.

Through Attorney Louis Sager, he sued both the borough and John Szeniripunos, 440 High street, owner of the property in front of which the sidewalk passes.

He claimed that the fall led to the amputation of both his legs.

BOROUGH Solicitor C. Edmund Wells and Attorney L. Stanley Mauger, representing Szeniripunos, objected to this claim as far exceeding the claim made by Sager when he filed the complaint that led to the suit.

In Sager's complaint, they said, the fall is blamed only for a broken right ankle and its after-effects.

Wells and Mauger maintain the amputations were a result of Kaufman's being hit by a car several months after the fall.

They made a formal objection of "surprise," saying they were not prepared to make an adequate defense against the unexpected and more sweeping claims.

Judge E. Arnold Forrest upheld objections. As a result, Sager asked for the withdrawal of a juror, which led to a "non-suit."

This "non-suit" does not prejudice Kaufman's case but means Sager will have to file a new action.

Kaufman claims the broken ankle led to leg trouble that forced the amputations.

Wells and Mauger maintain that the broken ankle was healed before he was hit by the car, that the leg injuries caused by the car accident led to gangrene and amputation.

In the car accident, Kaufman had fractures of both legs and of the pelvis.

Local Group Will Attend County Nurses' Parley

A Pottstown delegation will attend the Fall meeting of the newly organized Montgomery County Nurses' association of District 1, Pennsylvania State Nurses' association, it was announced yesterday by Leona V. Smith, local visiting nurse.

The meeting will be held in Bryn Mawr hospital Monday at 8 p. m. The meeting is open to graduate nurses living or working in the county.

Enhance Your Home With Trees, Shrubs

Fall is a popular time for planting ornamental trees and shrubs on the home property.

At this time of the year, plants have had a full summer of growth behind them, and are in their strongest physical condition. They do not grow much, if any, during the coldest months.

By planting in the Fall, the home owner is setting out his trees and shrubs when they are dormant and ready to take advantage of late winter and early spring growth that would not always be possible by waiting until next year.

Fall planting thus gives the home owner the jump on next spring and it often affords an extra flowering season.

FALL IS LIKEWISE the most practical time to landscape the property to make it more attractive and liveable.

During the last quarter of the year, the home owner's outdoor chores are lighter than ever. There is little or no conflict of time for planting as there is in the Spring when vegetable gardens, lawn mowing, annual flower beds demand so much.

During the Summer just past, the home owner has fresh in his mind the things he has noticed that should be accomplished to make his property more liveable. By next Spring some of them may have been forgotten.

Possibly a cool outdoor living room surrounded by trees and shrubs would have made your Summer entertaining more comfortable and pleasing; or perhaps you felt the need for a hedge to give the property more privacy, or a screen of trees and shrubs to shut off an unsightly vista.

Maybe a windbreak to stop cold winds in the winter months, or just more variety and color to your planting. This is the best time of the year to take a good look at the foundation planting to renew plants that have outgrown their purpose.

BECAUSE OF recent advances in the handling of nursery stock, the time to plant is when you want the work done. Planting ornamental plants and shrubs is not dictated by the seasons, except in rather rare instances your nurseryman will tell you about upon inquiry.

At this time of the year your nurseryman has time to spend with you in selection of plants and, in general, giving more advice to help you make your property more liveable.

Planting is an investment in better living that increases in value from year to year as the trees or shrubs grow. According to authoritative surveys, the resale value of a home property attractively planted is increased by 10 to 15 percent.

In better living for the whole family, however, and in pride of ownership, the returns are far greater.

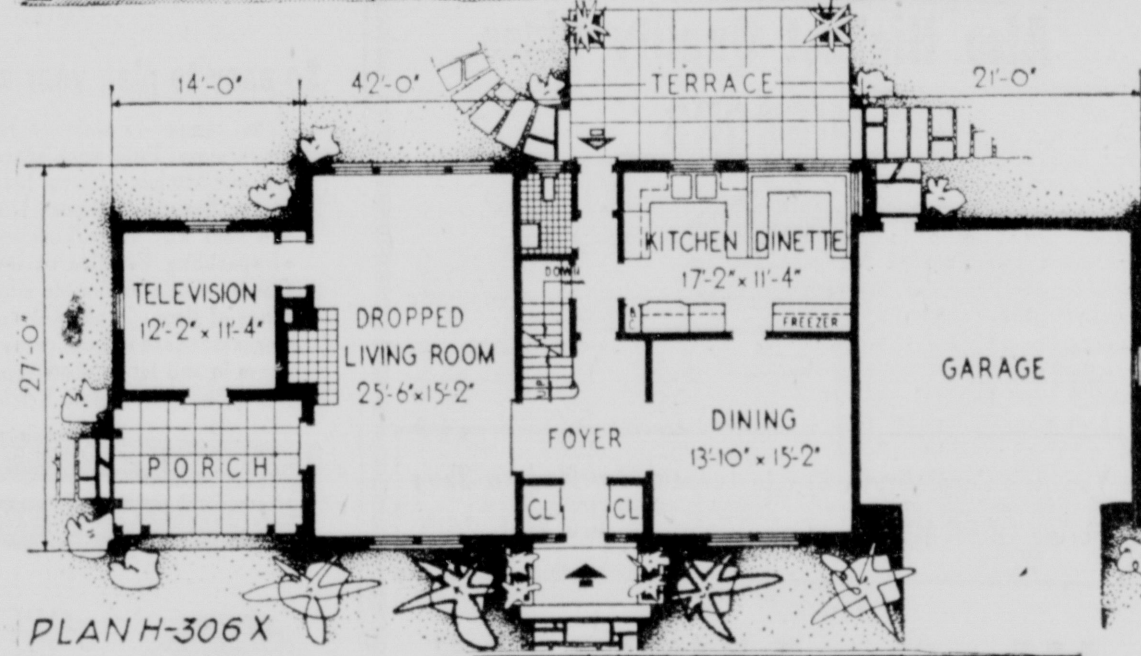

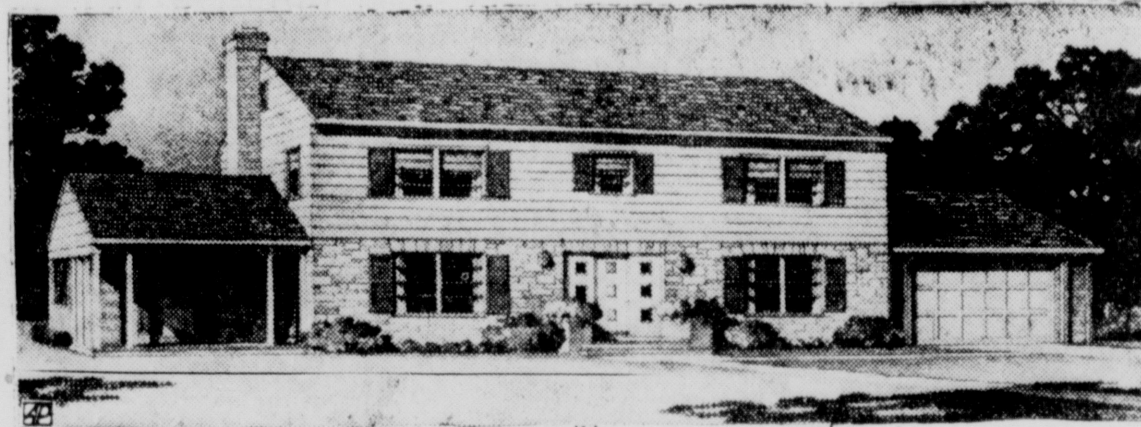

Trend Toward Tile For Clever Kitchens

Many home planners are rediscovering clay tile. Now available in 200 shades, it appeals to present-day homemakers who want kitchens brighter.

The ease with which tile can be cleaned and the fact that it will not be injured by acids and grease, are persuasive factors to functional-minded housewives.

In choosing the color of wall tile you'll find that clear colors go well with the white or cream surfaces of refrigerator, range, and metal cabinets.

PERENNIALY POPULAR, modernized versions of colonial architecture lend themselves to gracious two-story houses. Here a large dropped living room with adjoining television den, central entrance foyer, a spacious kitchen with dinette, a first floor lavatory and three big bedrooms and two bathrooms upstairs are among features of the house. The house, exclusive of its two-car garage, covers 1442 square feet and contains 38,560 cubic feet with basement.

same color of the tile, or a little glazed only in part, you may want in these two places. Kitchen lighter. Too many colors make a kitchen look too "busy"—never at the seam next to the sink and good idea in decoration. Grease and water do not damage the tile and it's a particular blessing if the kitchen is being redecorated.

MODERNIZATION PAYS DIVIDENDS

Improvements to Home Usually Worth Twice Their Cost

Modernizing your home does not mean you have to remove its gabled roof and install a chromium trimmed flat deck with big round holes for sunshine and rain.

Too many home owners become more or less frightened at the idea of modernizing and pass up opportunities for adding real value to their properties by making the house easier to live in.

And usually every $100 spent on thoughtful improvements to a structurally sound house results in upwards of $200 in new value because it sets back the clock that is ticking off obsolescence.

REAL ESTATE appraisers are keenly aware of this. They know that remodeling is economically sound when a good structure is located in a good neighborhood. The Chicago chapter of the Society of Residential Appraisers recently was told:

"The fact that a house is 50 or 60 years old need not necessarily detract from the feasibility of remodeling it, as can be borne out by the many houses which are as much as 200 years old and still sound."

"Proper planning and complete architectural service can assure the owner an adequate return on his investment."

Today's the day to keep a lookout — or rather a lookout—for the parachutes.

Not while you're crossing intersections or driving your convertible with the top down, but while you're standing in your back yard or front sidewalk or shopping along High street. Your wallet may be glad you did.

JAMES J. MOORE

The speaker was W. Lockwood Martling Jr., architect who has specialized in residential remodeling in addition to new home planning. Points of obsolescence he has found most common in older houses are:

1. Small windows.
2. Lack of closets.
3. Many small rooms poorly arranged.
4. Awkward roof lines.
5. Poor landscaping.
6. Light obstructing porches.
7. High maintenance costs.

Browse through your local stores and building supply houses to see what is now on the market, inspect your house, gather ideas and then start to modernize to get more out of life.

The 'chutes will shower Pottstown, Sanatoga and Stowe at about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. According to the Building Industries Exchange of Pottstown and Vicinity, sponsors of the invasion, each silken missile will be worth $1 at any member's business establishment.

Piloting the sky-blue "Tri-Pacer" Piper craft, which will take off shortly before 4:30 o'clock from the Municipal airport, will be James J. Moore, local realtor. Accompanying Moore will be David G. Welsh — "that is, if I can talk him into it," said Moore.

Members of the Building Exchange will continue holding open house throughout the week. But don't forget—on your way to open house, look up! Those spots before your eyes will be valuable.

Flexible Weatherstripping Possesses Advantages

In the past, the main objection to flexible versus metal weatherstripping has been that flexible forms are bound to wear out in time.

The handyman undoubtedly is prepared for this. Knowing the cost of metal types and the difficulty of proper installation, he is likely to settle for an efficient flexible job for as long as it lasts.

Choose Right Brush, Paint With Pleasure

Although many hostesses take great pains to make a garden party a success, little labor is involved as this housewife makes sure the furniture will look its spotless best with a new coat of paint. Like thousands of other homemakers, she has learned that painting is fun when the right brush is used for the job.

Asbestos Board Sheaths Huge Terminal Dome

Viewed from below, the vast dome of New York's Grand Central terminal is a continuous expanse of arched ceiling area, covered with a huge mural of astronomical designs.

The ceiling actually is covered with hundreds of rectangular sheets of asbestos-cement board. Although stonelike in composition and durability, the board is flexible enough to adapt itself to moderately curved construction.

More than 30,000 square feet of asbestos board went into the project. It took 750 gallons of paint to decorate it.

Flexible Plastic Weatherstripping Uses Wool to Restrain Wintry Blasts

Now a new kind of flexible, easy-to-apply weatherstripping is being distributed through retail stores. Designed along the lines of the window seals used on modern automobiles, it relies on a wool pile to keep the weather out. Instead of this wool pile—like a dense brush—being embedded in a metal strip as it is in automobiles and airplanes, it is sealed in a flexible, narrow plastic strip.

Ivory colored, this plastic strip is indented for tack holes at regular intervals and tacks of a matching color are supplied.

How to Banish Winter Worries

To prepare for a snug, comfortable winter, check carefully the following: (1) Heating system—check grates, boiler and firebox for cracks or leaks, covering of pipes; (2) Insulation—full-thick mineral wool insures comfort, cuts fuel costs up to 30 percent; (3) Chimney—check to see that flue is clean, if cement is sound around smokepipe, woodwork adjoining chimney should be fireproofed; (4) Roof—check from inside for holes, check for missing or broken tiles, shingles, etc., check all flashings for rust or displacement; (5) Exterior—inspect woodwork for warping, cracking, rotting, look for holes or cracks at windowsills, check windows and doors to see if caulking is needed around frames, check steps for structural defects.

McKEESPORT, Sept. 22—An 80-year-old engineer, alarmed by the toll which fire has taken in life and destroyed homes in recent years, has designed and built what he terms an absolutely fireproof home, using nothing but incombustible materials.

Steel, concrete and asbestos-cement board went into its construction. The designer, John J. Boax, claims there isn't another house like it. Besides being incombustible, he says, it is termite-proof and vibrationless.

Most of the construction is between the sections. cement. Windows and doors are metal trimmed. The doors themselves are made of asbestos-cement. Occupying the unique house will be Boax's son, Fred, and the latter's wife and four daughters.

LUMBER...

Strange, how a simple pile of lumber
Can inspire thought waves without number,
Start the nimble-working hands
In motion. Build a house that stands
Against all storm, all kinds of weather;
A home that holds our hearts together.
It may be wood of fragrant pine
That has the smell of weathered wine,
Or sturdy oak, or hickory wood,
Or poplar, birch, or maple good.
Those thoughts run on, then you agree
That only God can make a tree.
But see that pile of lumber there—
'Twas once a tree or trees to share
The sun, the rain, the whispering breeze
That helped them grow to mighty trees.
Then men with saw and axe applied
Cut them down from lofty pride;
They trimmed, sawed, planed to size,
Placed seeds for other trees to rise.
Then put in place by men of skill
On level ground or lofty hill
And there a home, a loving place
To strengthen, propagate a race.
So while we all will quite agree
That only God can make a tree,
He put them there to start a thought
And lo, behold! A home is wrought!
Strange, how a simple pile of lumber
Can start our thought waves without number.

Patents Pending

This new boiler is only a third the size of old-fashioned boilers — yet heats up to 12 rooms easily. Takes small space — only 21" wide, 37" high . . . is a beautiful addition to any home. Employs new "Sun-Blaze" principle, originally developed in compact aircraft heaters for Uncle Sam's Air Forces. Gives more heat, quicker, on less oil. Manufactured by Harvey-Whipple, Inc., Springfield, Mass., one of the oldest pioneers in the oil heating industry.

UP TO 50% SAVING OF OIL
The heating element used is a new kind of oil burner that has proved itself by making savings up to 50% on fuel bills from coast to coast. This new kind of oil burner actually reduces the amount of fuel needed to heat a home because of the DUAL-OXENIZER (Patented) which makes use of a new method of turning oil into pure heat, combines a double charge of oxygen with oil — gives the hottest oil flame ever developed and also burns catalytic oils with ease.

HAS ELECTRONIC CONTROL — new scientific advance which uses electric eye for instantaneous safety control. Ask to see a demonstration of this control.

Phone us for details or stop in and see it.

pleased to learn that the building committee had chosen asbestos siding for their new church building.
What they liked best about it is that asbestos won't burn. You see, this is the congregation's third church; the first two burned down.
The new building also has incombustible roofing. With these precautions, the members believe,

Tree Shadows on Rippled Walls Decorate Novel Woodland Home

Asked to design an ideal home for a woodland setting, a New York architect found the answer through generous use of two materials, glass and corrugated asbestos-cement sheets.

The home, recently featured in a national magazine, is a single story structure with sloping roof extended to provide a good overhang in front.

One entire wall of the living room is glass; another, at a right angle to it, also is of glass except for a three-foot area at the base, which is faced on the exterior with asbestos-cement sheets placed so that the corrugations run horizontally.

All other exterior walls are sided with similar sheets, the corrugations running vertically. Left in their natural gray color, the corrugated sheets catch a constantly changing pattern of shadows from the trees on their rippled surfaces. Being immune to rot, they require no painting for preservation.

This use of corrugated asbestos-cement sheets, long popular in industrial construction, represents a growing trend. Besides being economical and durable, home designers have found, the material has unusual decorative possibilities.

Utility Is Landscaping Goal

Modern landscaping is designed for utility, family comfort and beauty, by contrast to the formality and stiffness of landscaping in the early part of the century.

Practically extinct are the grotesque forms of hedges, statuary, and similar adornments of former years, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Today the emphasis is on use, with more enjoyable outdoor living, natural plantings that create the illusion of more spacious grounds than actually may exist, the association says.

Even a small property of 50x125 feet, can be planted to create the feeling of open vista, privacy and comfortable use and extraordinary pains are taken by landscape nurserymen to achieve that effect.

Hedges, screen clothes lines and work areas. Lawn space with border plantings hide neighboring houses and the creation of park-like areas for play and entertaining are much in vogue.

HERE ARE a few pointers on landscaping:

1. Consider the whole property to be landscaped as a problem in art and design, rather than the purchase of so many plants.
2. Obtain advice from your landscape nurseryman on what you hope to accomplish, as well as how to go about reaching your goal.
3. Seek variety in the color and form of your plantings, both of foliage and flower.
4. If you do not find it convenient to plant all at once plant one area at a time in finished form, rather than scattering your plantings so the property never looks finished.

Expert advice at the start is cheaper in the long run, may save considerable sums in later years. Plant for beauty and use to make your property a source of family pleasure and pride, with plenty of flowers like roses and other perennials for home cut flowers.

The ultimate test of expert landscaping is the feeling, "What a lovely home setting!"

Brush Care Vital To Quality Paint Job

If you want to get best results from your home painting — take good care of your paint brush, or brushes. That is the advice of paint brush manufacturers who say there are six elementary rules all paint brush users should remember.

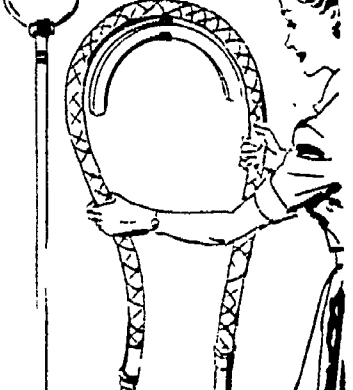

The first three are "Don't's":

1. Don't ever leave the brush in water.
2. Don't ever stand the brush on the bristle end.
3. Don't ever allow any paint product to harden in the brush.

And next are three "Do's":

1. Do clean your brush promptly after use — with the proper thinner for the paint product used.
2. Do follow with a gentle wash in mild soap suds and water, and a rinse in clear water.
3. Do comb or brush the bristles straight, wrap carefully and permit it to dry without disturbing or bending the bristles.

Make Do

IT'S EASY to store a vacuum cleaner hose when you make a rack out of an old wheel rim of a balloon-tire bike. Cut the rim in half so the valve stem hole will be centered. This accommodates a bolt for mounting the rack on an angle iron.

FLYING GEOLOGISTS

Prospectors Take to Air in Search for Asbestos Ore

Mineral hunting prospectors have taken to the air in a world-wide search for deposits of asbestos, the fibrous rock which has become an important factor in supplying the Nation's building supplies needs.

More than a million tons of asbestos a year are used in manufacturing a wide variety of products. The largest volume goes to the asbestos-cement industry, to be combined with portland cement in the making of roofing, siding and boards.

Other uses range from theater curtains to insulation for jet engines.

The prospectors, trained geologists, are aided by an instrument known as a magnetometer which indicates the varying magnetic intensities of the earth beneath it.

Initial surveys may be made from airplanes flying at a height of about 500 feet. More intensive checks, if warranted, then are made at ground level. Cross-sectional samples of ore bodies are taken at the most promising points through diamond drilling and shipped to laboratories for evaluation.

MORE THAN half of the free world's supply of asbestos now comes from the Province of Quebec in Canada. The next biggest source is South Africa. In the United States deposits of commercial importance are worked in Vermont and Arizona. Russia has valuable resources in the Ural mountains.

Postwar explorations already have led to the development of new asbestos mines in Ontario province, Canada, and in Southern Rhodesia. Extensive drilling is being done in the mountain wilderness of Colombia in South America.

Other asbestos deposits are being sought in an effort to add to the world's reserves, which in 1952 were estimated by the National Security Resources board as adequate for from 25 to 30 years.

Siding shingles made of asbestos and cement, introduced in 1932, have made sensational gains in popularity in recent years. Shipments in 1952 set an all-time record.

Production was triple that of the best prewar year. Low cost, ing sought in an effort to add to the world's reserves, which in 1952 maintenance expense are factors contributing to their increased use.

If Your family had lots of COLDS last winter... change to this healthier, more comfortable way of heating

WITH HARD COAL you get steadier, more comfortable heat that protects you against winter illnesses! Cleaner—safer, too! And... with automatic equipment... you can cut fuel bills in half!

Every winter many families suffer discomfort, colds and other winter illnesses as a result of "up and down" heat from non-solid, so-called "modern" fuels. Here's what happens. The thermostat shuts off the fire completely. The warm air in the rooms rises to the ceiling. Cold areas and drafts are created.

You don't get "up and down" heat with hard coal. Heat with modern fully automatic hard coal equipment is thermostatically controlled—but your fire is never completely "off."

Big savings! With modern automatic hard coal equipment you get the convenience of automatic heating and, because you burn the cheaper sizes of hard coal, you save as much as half your present fuel bill! And... if you have hand-fired equipment, you can still cut your fuel bill as much as 20% just by adding an inexpensive thermostat.

For full information on modern automatic hard coal heating, write Anthracite Institute, 101 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

HARD COAL IS 8 WAYS BETTER:

1. Steadier, more comfortable heat
2. More even, healthful heat
3. Clean heat... no greasy smudge or odor
4. Can't smoke under any conditions
5. Automatic Hard Coal cuts your fuel bill!
6. Safe heat... no worries about possible explosions
7. You can store a full winter's supply in advance.
8. Automatic anthracite equipment gives you modern convenience

Landscaping with trees and shrubs along streets and highways absorbs considerable traffic and other noises, in addition to relieving the home owner from a constant view of whizzing automobiles, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. "The automobile is so vastly important from the viewpoint of our National economy as well as a family pleasure that traffic cannot be reduced," says the association, "so the only logical solution to the problem is the widespread use of plant 'buffers' to abate the noise. "Countless abutting home properties can be made far more desirable for living and their value greatly increased by hedges and trees." The association advises, "If space permits, the planting of a double row of coniferous evergreen trees on the street or highway side of the property should be continuous all year. If the noise should be troublesome only in the Summer months, a planting of deciduous trees, which shed their leaves may be sufficient. In cases where the noise is only moderate or where ground space is at a premium, a single row of columnar type evergreens or a high hedge will serve the purpose. The noise is reduced in direct proportion to the depth of the planting and the denseness of the foliage. For this reason, any dense growing evergreen is ideal, such as hemlocks, firs, yews, spruces, arborvitae and junipers. With a sprinkling of flowering trees among them the strip can be beautiful. Holly trees, in climates where they may be grown are evergreen, dense and ornamental. Hedge materials for the purpose are plentiful and varied. It is always preferable to consult your local nurseryman with respect to your particular soil and climatic conditions. One condition should be met conclusively, however; you want plant material that will be hardy in your area under all conditions of cold, wet, heat, or drought. THE PLANT "buffer" also will tend to guard your home against dust and fumes from the street or highway. In a test in New York city on the leeward side of tree-covered Central park, it was found that the dust count was reduced by 75 percent. According to Wilbur H. Simonson, of the Bureau of Public Roads, US Department of Commerce, evergreen trees are credited with greater ability for absorbing part of raucous sounds and for scattering the remainder, thereby lessening the impact of the sound on the property to the rear. Furthermore, he said, they virtually eliminate the echo factor. Overall sound reductions by plant "buffers" are estimated to be from 45 to 60 percent, depending on the type of roadway, according to Simonson.

Water transportation accounts for 22 percent of all bituminous coal moved directly from the mines in Pennsylvania.

Landscaping with trees and shrubs along streets and highways absorbs considerable traffic and other noises, in addition to relieving the home owner from a constant view of whizzing automobiles, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. "The automobile is so vastly important from the viewpoint of our National economy as well as a family pleasure that traffic cannot be reduced," says the association, "so the only logical solution to the problem is the widespread use of plant 'buffers' to abate the noise.

"Countless abutting home properties can be made far more desirable for living and their value greatly increased by hedges and trees."

The association advises, if space permits, the planting of a double row of coniferous evergreen trees on the street or highway side of the property should the noise be continuous all year.

If the noise should be troublesome only in the Summer months, a planting of deciduous trees, which shed their leaves may be sufficient.

In cases where the noise is only moderate or where ground space is at a premium, a single row of columnar type evergreens or a high hedge will serve the purpose.

The noise is reduced in direct proportion to the depth of the planting and the denseness of the foliage.

For this reason, any dense growing evergreen is ideal, such as hemlocks, firs, yews, spruces, arborvitae and junipers.

With a sprinkling of flowering trees among them the strip can be beautiful. Holly trees, in climates where they may be grown are evergreen, dense and ornamental.

Hedge materials for the purpose are plentiful and varied. It is always preferable to consult your local nurseryman with respect to your particular soil and climatic conditions.

One condition should be met conclusively, however: you want plant material that will be hardy in your area under all conditions of cold, wet, heat, or drought.

THE PLANT "buffer" also will tend to guard your home against dust and fumes from the street or highway. In a test in New York city on the leeward side of tree-covered Central park, it was found that the dust count was reduced by 75 percent.

According to Wilbur H. Simonson, of the Bureau of Public Roads, US Department of Commerce, evergreen trees are credited with greater ability for absorbing part of raucous sounds and for scattering the remainder, thereby lessening the impact of the sound on the property to the rear.

Furthermore, he said, they virtually eliminate the echo factor.

Overall sound reductions by plant "buffers" are estimated to be from 45 to 60 percent, depending on the type of roadway, according to Simonson.

Water transportation accounts for 22 percent of all bituminous coal moved directly from the mines in Pennsylvania.

Modern Ideas Turn Decrepit Shack Into Prize-Winning Home

EL DORADO, Ark., Sept 22—Home remodeling, when done with ingenuity, enthusiasm and modern materials, can pay off in a big way.

The George F. Tabor family proved it by taking a dilapidated tenant shack, almost on the verge of collapse, and turning it into a trim, up-to-date home. The improvements added nearly double their cost to the value of the property and won the Tabor's first prize in a Statewide contest.

The Tabor's acquired the four-room shack when they purchased some 40 acres of land near Smackover in 1944. Like the house, the land was worn and of little value.

The Tabor's first step was to install an irrigation system, using abandoned pipe from an oil field to carry spring water. With irrigation, they were able to boost their corn yield to 80 bushels an acre and start raising beef.

REJUVENATION OF the house came next. To finance the work, they obtained a 4 percent 20-year loan of $3700 from the Farmers Home administration and drew about $850 from their savings.

The result is a comfortable, attractive five-room home, made vastly more liveable through the addition of electricity, plumbing and modern kitchen.

The most dramatic change in appearance came with the covering of exterior walls with asbestos - cement siding shingles. The Tabor's chose a soft shade of green to blend with the rural setting.

Since the siding supplies its Tabors employed a skilled carpenter to lay out the work. The painting was required. Because of its mineral composition, the asbestos siding is rotproof, weather-proof and termite-resistant, so there will be no need for subsequent preservative treatment. Its incombustibility also is a fire-safety advantage.

WORKING WITH plans suggested by Thurman D. Owens, county FHA supervisor, and his staff, the wall fronting on the porch.

The Tabor project won first place for both district and State in the Arkansas Press remodeled homes division of the 1952 Balanced Farming contest. Humus in the soil helps hold nitrogen and moisture.

Interlocking Type Stripping Is Best

Interlocking metal weatherstripping—a costly installation—is generally conceded to be the best—when it's put in right. This writer had such a type installed in a new house a few years ago.

The job was done by professionals. Yet, the breeze that blows in at lower corners of the front door is enough to put goose flesh on your ankles.

The idea of weatherstripping is to reduce air leakage around windows and doors. It's not a matter of hermetically sealing a house. It's just getting things down to who's boss—you, or the weather.

When you want ventilation you can get it, but you don't want to spend the winter with one window half open all the time.

The Weatherstrip Research Institute says that ordinary windows are so loosely fitted that the clearance around the sashes is equal to a hole four inches square.

Not knowing how to square the circle, we were never able to check up.

But it is obvious that we all get a lot of free air through something, that is not a wise crack.

MEN WORKING—And dressed sensibly for the job at hand, the amateur builder at left looks over his blueprints while suitably attired in matching shirt and pants of gray cotton twill (also available in sun tan and forest green). The home carpenter at right wears heavy duty blue denim coveralls with zip front and utility pockets for various shaped tools, such as ruler, hammer and carpenter's pencils.

Backyard Playhouse Doubles as Tool Shed

A backyard playhouse which also serves as a bicycle garage and a storage space for garden tools, can solve a lot of problems for a cramped-for-space family. Plans for such a structure are now being made available by an association of building materials makers.

The playhouse measures six by six feet. It has a gable roof, windows at front and rear, hinged bunks and a hinged table. Mounted on skids, it may be moved easily to any part of the yard.

Asbestos-cement board encloses the wood framework. This material is nominal in cost, easy to cut and nail, incombustible and rotproof. It does not require paint.

A Checkup on Heating System Now Will Insure Comfort, Cut Fuel Costs

A check now on the home heating and radiators contain sufficient system may save anxious moments and acute discomfort when cold weather strikes.

And, for homes where fuel bills have soared in the annual winter struggle to maintain comfortable indoor temperatures, now is an excellent time to slice future costs by the installation of insulation.

Frank E. Parsons, engineer with the national Mineral Wool association and Nationally recognized authority on insulation and indoor temperature control, suggests warm-weather for insulating in order that full savings benefits may be realized in the upcoming heating season.

"Naturally, the heating system itself should be in good condition for maximum comfort and savings in cold months," Parsons adds, suggesting that Bureau of Standards recommendations be used as a guide by the homeowner:

"Check all radiator valves and shut-off cocks for possible leakage and, in the case of a hot-water heating system, see that the boiler water.

"Examine the furnace or boiler to see whether grates or burners need repair or adjustment. See if there are cracks in the boiler and whether the firebox, ashpit, and clean-out doors fit tightly. All soot and ashes should be removed from the furnace, heating surfaces, smoke pipe, and base of chimney to insure maximum heating efficiency.

"Examine the condition of insulation and fastenings on boiler, furnace, hot-water storage tank, and pipes or ducts to see whether new or additional covering is needed.

"Filters, humidifier fans, and floor or wall grilles or registers used with warm-air systems should also be inspected for possible defects.

Stop Fiddling Away Fall and Get Set for Winter

Don't be a cricket and fiddle guard against moisture invasion away the Fall. Get your house ready for Winter, suggests Mrs. Della Short, home economics extension representative, Montgomery county.

The future to your house depends on the way you care for it. Every home owner must be on side of his house. No house is immune to attacks of moisture.

Moisture from a steaming teakettle, the laundry, the shower, and the bath can invade and damage the inner walls of a house.

Autumn Is the Right Time to Winterize Your Garden Gear

By VIVIAN BROWN
(Associated Press Writer)

Calling all outdoor housekeepers! Now is the time to give your outdoor equipment a Fall house-cleaning.

Line up your shovels, spade forks, barbecue grills, tables, chairs, and the like, and get them set for their Winter vacation.

All you need is soap, water, brushes, shellac and maybe a little paint, and you can ready that garden and patio equipment to a slick fare-the-well for the Winter.

Here's how, as suggested by cleanliness experts and Gordon Oberg, industrial designer.

OUTDOOR FURNITURE calls for a good sudsing and thorough drying.

liant paint like red, shocking pink, orange or yellow to brand the handles.

Besides making your tools stand out for easy discovery in garden weeds next year, it will remind your neighbor to return that borrowed tool in short order.

Now for your furniture—dust rattan, wood or iron with a good stiff brush. Wash with a mild soap and warm water (not hot).

When furniture has thoroughly dried in the warm Autumn air, coat it with thin shellac. Make sure legs are completely dry (by turning upside down in sunshine) as this is where moisture settles.

Wrap freshly cleaned or painted furniture in wrapping paper or covers made for the purpose. If there are several parts, label them distinctly for convenience in putting them together again next year.

Cover the labels with cellulose tape so the writing will not smear or fade.

SUDS YOUR grill, pan and cart before storing. Oil or grease working parts.

A solution of alum will help to waterproof canvas for its service next Spring.

All outdoor cooking equipment should be put away clean. A greasy pan or utensil should never be stored. A drip pan coated with grease should be soaked overnight by pouring a solution of soapsuds with a few drops of ammonia added.

Then use a small wire brush and fresh suds to scrub the entire surface. This applies to long skewers, forks and holders, too. After scrubbing and drying your outdoor barbecue grill put on two thin coats of shellac and one coat of black outdoor enamel.

Tools which need oiling such as your power lawnmower should be attended to immediately. Clean the mower completely and oil before you store away.

Many people wonder why their power lawnmowers are a failure and need reconditioning after the first season. All that is needed is some care before storing.

A new hand-size not-metallic lawnmower costs the Army only $2.50.

Home Insulation Pays for Itself

Good home insulation will pay for itself through reduced fuel bills in two to five years, points out the National Mineral Wool association, citing tests by the Tennessee Valley authority.

The tests, of identical houses—one with full-thick mineral wool, the other without insulation—revealed a 44.75 percent heat saving in the insulated house.

GROSSTOWN ROAD, STOWE — Phone Pottstown 1295

Bathrooms Offer More Modernization Possibilities Than Any Other Room

For its size, a bathroom is one of the most expensive rooms in a house. That's why, nationally, one out of every three houses has no bathroom. Yet money spent on a bathroom is the most rewarding of all in long-term satisfaction. Every detail of the modern bathroom—the fixtures, fittings, wall and floor materials—is designed for hard use and long life. Consider the bathroom floor, for example. It gets harder usage than almost any floor you can think of. It is wet more often, washed more often, subjected to spilled medicines and various acids and carries more weight per square foot—because of the heavy fixtures—than any other floor in the house. So it calls for stronger framing, stouter joists, leak-proof construction and, if you can afford it, a clay tile covering firmly set in special mortar.

MOST BATHROOMS in older houses offer more possibilities for modernization than any other room. The extent of such a project depends on your budget. Many new materials on the market, including stamped steel fixtures, plastic covered panels for walls and various moisture resistant floor coverings bring new bathrooms within the reach of many families who otherwise might have to postpone the project. However, architectural and decorative ideas have opened various avenues to economy without sacrificing the quality of conventional clay tile work and regular fixtures.

For instance, many people refuse to class a house as entirely modern and adequate for average family needs unless it contains two or more bathrooms. An extra bathroom is an expensive proposition. So architects have contrived the ingenious compromise of the divided, or split bath. This gives one bathroom the capacity of two or more by partitioning off the various fixtures. Bathrooms in many older houses are often large enough for this treatment. The water closet is partioned off, the bathtub or shower is enclosed, and sometimes a second wash stand is installed. Then the old fashioned custom of second rate hotels, where wash basins were installed in bedrooms, has been dressed up very sensibly by including a lavatory in a built-in vanity table in bedrooms.

DECORATORS HAVE contributed to economy in bathrooms by their discovery that white fixtures are still in the best of taste despite the recent widespread use of colored ensembles of bathtubs, lavatories and water closets. Colored fixtures not only range from 10 to 25 percent higher in cost than white fixtures, but they often are hard to get, especially in all styles.

- Seeing is believing. Come in today and watch the Winkler LP* burn—
1. Crankcase drainings
 2. Mixed oil and water
 3. Hard-cracked oils

Do you know that you may be wasting as much as 50% of your fuel oil? The chances are, if you live in the average size home, that your oil burner is oversized to prevent nozzle-clogging. This means that heat is wasted up the chimney—oil burned needlessly. The low pressure Winkler LP* Oil Burner prevents this extravagant waste of precious fuel because it can be sized exactly to the heat absorbing capacity of your boiler or furnace. It will save up to 50% of your present fuel consumption. The Winkler LP* saves amazingly on service, too—its design is utterly simple and dependable.

workbench, however, the list can grow to almost any length, according to your enthusiasm and budget. But it never pays to buy cheap tools for any purpose. Heads of inferior hammers can fly off and cause damage or injury. Screw driver bits improperly dressed can damage screws, making them very difficult to remove. Saws with teeth in need of setting or jointing can bind or jump from a kerf and slash your hand. Basic tools needed for jobs around the average house may be limited to the following:

1. A claw hammer—10 to 16 ounce size depending on how it feels in your hand. Heavier hammers are used for hardwood or for driving larger nails. The head of a quality hammer is drop forged, not cast. The handle should be a straight grain hardwood, hickory or ash.
2. At least two screw drivers of different sizes, indicated by the length of the blade. A 3-inch and 5-inch will be handy. Smaller screws and larger ones call for other sizes. There is no all purpose screwdriver. The blade should fit snugly into the screw.

3. A pair of pliers. You'll find many types and sizes, but the combination pliers with a slip joint permitting them to be opened wide at the hinge pin for gripping larger diameters are the handiest for the house-hold.
4. A monkey wrench. These are flat nosed for gripping nuts and bolts. Adjustable, they are most suitable for the handyman. But they are not intended for turning pipes or round objects, where pipe wrenches are needed.
5. A number 8 crosscut saw. This is a general purpose saw, coarse enough to cut fast and fine enough for rough work. The size of a saw is measured by the length of the tooth edge of the blade, popular sizes being 24 and 26 inches, and by the tooth points per inch. Saws having few teeth — five, six or seven points to the inch — are usually rip saws. Crosscut saws usually range from eight to 12 at the home workbench will points. Back saws for fine work range from 12 to 16 points.

home handymen are wielding paintbrushes. "Good paint, properly applied, provides a tough, protective decorative film," says paint experts who offer valuable suggestions to the home painter who wishes, not only to preserve the surfaces, but to add to the attractiveness and increase the value of his home.

Factors in the success of any paint job include: condition of the surface to be painted, prevailing atmospheric conditions, quality and suitability of the paint, and the use of a good quality brush of the proper size.

Specific advice regarding these factors can be obtained from any reliable paint dealer.

IN PAINTING exterior surfaces, handymen are reminded to start at the top, painting surfaces which must be reached by ladder first. A four-inch wall brush is recommended for flat surfaces and a two- or three-inch varnish or sash brush for trim.

To make exterior painting easier and safer, six suggestions are made:

1. Be careful — stand ladder at safe distance from wall and hold on securely at all times.
2. Don't paint over dust—keep a dusting brush handy and make sure surface is clean.
3. Avoid mess — by gluing a paper plate to the bottom of paint can to catch drippings.
4. Strain paint—a screen fitted inside the paint can and allowed to sink will carry lumpy paint particles to the bottom.

5. Save shrubs—burlap or sheets over the shrubs and tacked to the ground with wooden pegs will avoid damage.
6. Repel bugs—a few drops of wintergreen or citronella added to

Asbestos Roofs Protect Many New Churches

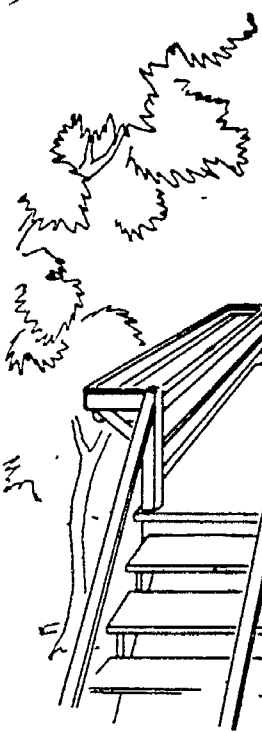

Although varying widely in design and size, many of the Nation's beautiful new churches have one feature in common—roofs of asbestos-cement shingles. Trends in construction, builders report, favor this modern material for protecting the vast roof areas common to most church structures.

Dark gray asbestos shingles have been chosen for the new Blessed Trinity church in Wheeling Island, W. Va. Modified gothic in design, the church and adjoining rectory will cost $114,000. Dark asbestos shingles contrast with a tall, copper-covered spire on another gothic edifice, the recently dedicated St. Teresa's in Lincoln, Neb., church and furnishings cost $300,000.

Reinforced concrete is being used to build new church, parish house and chapel buildings for St. Paul's Episcopal church in Salem, Ore.

Striking a modern note is the recently completed All Saints Episcopal church in Pleasantville, a suburb of San Antonio, Tex. Built on a concrete slab, the small structure is ranch-style in design, with asbestos siding shingles on the exterior.

THIS AWKWARD second story back can be made attractive with little effort.

Annex to Garage Adds Space for Hobbies, Storage

Here's a timely suggestion for the home owner who is cramped for hobby and storage space—build an annex to your garage.

This is a project any person who is handy with tools can carry through. With the use of modern materials and methods, a lean-to type structure can be put up in short order and at modest cost.

A garage annex requires three walls and a shed roof. One wall of the present garage will serve as the fourth wall. Windows and doors can be obtained in stock sizes from a lumber dealer.

An annex of this kind is ideal for a workshop. It also can be used for storing lawn mowers, garden tools, summer furniture and the children's out-of-season toys.

A CONCRETE floor is advisable if the structure is to serve as a hobby room. Concrete mixes now can be obtained in prepared form; only water has to be added. It is best to put in the slab before you build but it can be added later.

Many handymen find the easiest way to put up a framework is to assemble each side unit on the ground, using 2x4's for sills, plates and studs. When completed, the units can be raised into place.

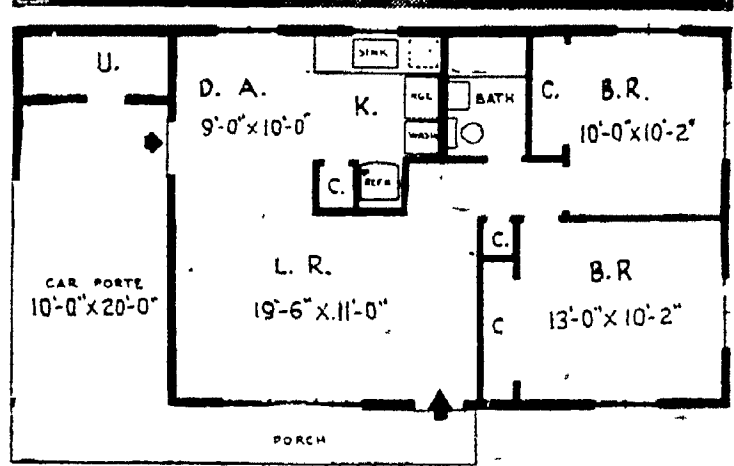

Once the framework is up, it is a simple matter to cover the exterior walls with large building sheets. Particularly suited for this use is asbestos-cement board, an easy-to-handle material that does not rot or decay and therefore needs no painting for preservation.

Each sheet is four feet wide. A sheet eight feet long thus will cover 32 square feet of wall area.

ASBESTOS-CEMENT board may be purchased from almost all building materials dealers. Its natural color is a pleasing light gray. Several thicknesses are available.

The sheets may be nailed directly to the framing members. Non-corrodible nails should be used for exterior application.

The annex can be made comfortable and easy-to-heat in northern climates by putting an insulating material between the wall studs and finishing the interior with asbestos-cement board.
